Vessel lost power shortly after putting out to sea and was thrown into shallow water on jetty. (AP Wirephoto)

Adlai Needs Help To Be Strong in U.N.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Suddenly a cloud of uncertainty has passed over Adlai E. Stevenson's future in the Kennedy administration. Some officials believe someone is "out to get Adlai." John M. Hightower, a Pulitzer Prize winner and a veteran AP diplomatic affairs writer, analyzes the situation.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The future of Adlai E. Stevenson as President Kennedy's ambassador to the United Nations rested under a cloud of uncertainty today—a cloud which only Kennedy himself can dispel.

Unless the uncertainty is cleared up soon Stevenson's effectiveness in dealing with other diplomats in New York may be impaired.

His prestige and persuasiveness depend upon the faith foreign envoys place in the President's confidence in Stevenson. That seems, for the moment, to be the central issue the President must now deal with.

Foresee Support

Some well-placed officials expect that Kennedy will speak out publicly in support of Stevenson. Associates of the ambassador say privately that the President already has assured him of his full support and that Stevenson is planning to carry on as usual.

Unless Stevenson was convinced of Kennedy's complete backing, one informant said, "he would have resigned already."

In official quarters two other questions are coming into focus: How much tolerance is there at the White House for disagreement in policy making?

Should anonymous but apparently authoritative criticism of a high official be interpreted as evidence that his resignation would be welcomed by the President?

Started With Story

Stevenson's troubles began Sunday with the disclosure in New York of an article in this week's edition of the Saturday Evening Post. The article was written by Charles Bartlett, a reporter for the Chattanooga Times and a very close friend of Kennedy, and by Stewart Alsop, the Washington editor of the magazine who is reputed to have excellent contacts within the administration.

The point of the article which attracted immediate attention was a report that Stevenson had dissented from the general agreement within the executive com-

Liberalizing Aim For Committees To Rile Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Moves to "liberalize" two major House committees—Rules and Ways and Means—may get the new Congress off to a battling start next month.

On their success or failure depends Kennedy's domestic legislative program.

Administration spokesmen disclosed privately today that they would fight to keep the membership of the powerful Rules Committee at 15. The committee will revert to its original 12-man size in the new House unless the House votes for the larger number.

Due to Break Grip

Membership was increased to 15 two years ago in a bid to add liberal votes and thus break the grip a conservative coalition had held for years.

The committee now is composed of 10 Democrats and five Republicans, with eight liberal Democrats normally—but not always—in control. Under the 12-man arrangement, a conservative coalition of two Southern Democrats, Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and William M. Colmer of Mississippi, often teamed with the four Republican members to block administration bills.

Is Clearing House

The Rules Committee is a clearing house for bills approved by other committees. Without its approval, it is extremely difficult for a bill to reach the House floor. Even the enlarged committee blocked some Kennedy-backed bills.

Charges Meetings Not Set

Passing Buck Is Majority Answer

A letter from Mayor John J. Schwenk listing seven proposals on which he said he gained on legislative action touched off political fire at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting with the Democrats, as majority aldermen, should have called for meeting with the mayor, and majority members accusing the mayor of "passing the buck."

Mayor Schwenk charged lack of action on on-street parking control for snow removal, on non-property tax revenue, on pedestrian safety, a capital improvement program, special assessment for a Ponckhockie sewer project, on continuity of government, and on the proposal to use home relief welfare recipients for municipal work.

The mayor's non-tax revenue proposal was emphasized in the argument. He noted he had asked in October for consideration of it, and no meeting has been held to discuss it.

Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, and other Democrats held that the mayor had shown "no initiative" on any of his proposals, and especially that dealing with tax relief.

Sparks Argument

Donald M. Hastings (D) Third Ward, said: "Mayor Schwenk—I and I want this quoted—has not had guts enough to bring out his own tax-relief program." This and another statement by Hastings led to heated argument between him and Joseph E. Carroll (R) 11th Ward, council minority leader. Carroll felt that Hastings was calling the mayor a liar. Hastings later said he had not used the term liar, but held that the mayor was wrong in his claim that nothing had been done about certain traffic problems.

Mayor Schwenk in his letter said:

"Inasmuch as this is the last regular meeting of the Common Council in the year 1962, I would like to call your attention once again to seven matters on which I have requested the legislative support of your honorable body, but which, unfortunately, have not yet resulted in any cooperative action."

Lists Matters

"In consideration of your valuable time, I am herewith listing these matters in order of their priority, and urge you to cooperate with me in solving some of these important problems facing the people of our city."

The mayor noted that at the October meeting he had requested (Continued on Page 16, Col. 4)

Mental Health Budget Parley Is Scheduled

Directors of the Ulster County Association of Mental Health at a meeting Tuesday night in George Washington School appointed a committee to meet with Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson and Jesse McHugh, chairman of the Board of Supervisors to discuss budget needs for the mental health center.

Directors were elected and plans were discussed to sponsor a meeting with representatives of Mental Health Associations in Dutchess, Columbia, Greene and Orange counties in an effort to form a concerted program to encourage legislation for the establishment of an institution in the Hudson Valley area for treatment and care of alcoholics who come in conflict with the law.

Concerned About Aid

The association director expressed deep concern about a statement by Dr. Katharina Stuber, director of the County Mental Health Center, 400 Broadway, who said the center may lose the license needed for receiving state aid due to resignations of professional personnel because of inadequate salaries.

The directors named a committee headed by Mrs. Frieda Dingee, president of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, to meet with Assemblyman Wilson and Supervisor McHugh in an effort to obtain assurance that necessary funds (Continued on Page 16, Col. 7)

Outcry Still Looms On Troop Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors held their fire for the most part as the Pentagon unveiled its program designed to get more ready-to-go combat punch into fewer National Guard and Army Reserve units.

An outcry had been predicted by some. It still may come. But Tuesday's announcement by the Defense Department drew only a request by Gov. Albert D. Rosellini of Washington that his colleagues withhold approval of the National Guard proposals until after a Pentagon meeting with state adjutants general next Monday.

Opposes Abolition

Rosellini, chairman of the National Governor's Conference, said he personally opposes abolition of National Guard units in his state. He urged other governors to wait until after a special committee of the conference looks into the matter after Monday's meeting.

The shakeup, in the works for eight months or more, will build reserve strength "far greater than anything we have known in the past," Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in announcing it.

The order goes into effect automatically for Army Reserve units. Approval by governors is needed for any changes in the National Guard during peacetime.

Asks Same Right For Dining Wives As Mrs. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Should Mrs. John F. Kennedy pay for her own meal at White House dinners honoring foreign dignitaries or is this a legitimate business expense of the President of the United States?

This question was raised Tuesday night when the Internal Revenue Service proposed to curtail the new law designed to curb expense account abuses.

Testifying at public hearings on the suggested rules, Henry G. Fousard, president of the St. Paul area Chamber of Commerce, argued that wives attending business dinners have as much right to eat on the expense account as does the First Lady and wives of American ambassadors.

Gets Special Funds

President Kennedy and U.S. ambassadors are given special funds to help finance official entertainment.

Relief From Smog Is Promised by Bureau

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—There were hopes today, mixed with an occasional snort, sneeze and cough, that a smog condition hanging over several sections of the state would blow away.

A wide section along the northern edge of this tourists' mecca was engulfed in a cloud of smog Tuesday after a quantity of chlorine gas spilled into the Niagara Gorge.

Earlier in the day, smog covered other areas of the state, including the Hudson Valley and west to Elmira.

The State Health Department said the smoke-filled blanket of unpleasantness posed no real threat to health, but some persons said it had worsened sinus and respiratory ailments.

The weather bureau said the unusual condition was brought on as warmer air in the upper atmosphere caused smoke and fumes to collect at lower levels.

The bureau said a weather change might pry loose the airlock sometime today.

The release of chlorine gas here forced 20 workers to leave their jobs for several hours after they suffered eye-burning and watering effects.

Ernest R. Gedeon, city director of air pollution control, said the gas was created when liquid waste from a chemical plant came in contact with a small amount of acid in sewer lines.

The cloud remained in the gorge late Tuesday night, but Gedeon said a strong wind or an increase in temperature would dissipate the smog.

Construction work on the Newburgh-Beacon bridge over the Hudson River was halted when a heavy haze shrouded the structure. Two of the three ferries in the river were cut of service, causing traffic delays. One ferry, equipped with radar, was operating.

Local Units Stay By Pentagon Order

Kingston will retain its two reserve units and pick up another under the Army Reserve reorganization plan announced Tuesday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Remaining in Kingston will be Headquarters and Headquarters Service Company of the 854th Engineer Battalion and the 390th Chemical Company.

The local Reserve headquarters, situated on Flatbush Avenue, will pick up a medical detachment, dental service, under the Pentagon order.

Following is the breakdown by individual New York State units of the Army Reserve organization:

(Units listed as "relocation—gain" are units coming into the state from another. "Relocation—loss" units are being shifted to another state. Personnel from units being inactivated or relocated will be reassigned to units in their present areas. New York City and Long Island units are not included.)

Would-Be Cuban Invaders Are Jailed in Florida Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Thirteen anti-Castro sympathizers sat in jail today 90 miles from Cuba, charged with violating the Neutrality Act.

The 13 including two Cubans and a Canadian—were picked up early Tuesday on a tiny island in the Florida Keys and accused of preparing an expedition against Cuba.

U.S. Commissioner William V. Albury called the 13, 10 of whom are American citizens, "just an adventure group that could get our country into trouble."

Albury ordered the 13 turned over to U.S. District Court in Miami, Fla., and held them on $1,000 bond each.

In reply to the charges, one of the group, James A. Lewis, 29, of San Francisco, Calif., asked, "Does it matter who violates neutrality, the government or us?"

"We have no name and belong to no other anti-Castro faction," said the apparent leader of the group, Gerald Patrick Henning, 25, of Los Angeles, Calif. Henning indicated, however, he knew of other anti-Castro groups training in the Keys.

The Cubans identified themselves as Eleno O. Alvarez, 26, and Remigio Arce, 43, both of Miami. The Canadian was William J. Dempsey, 21, Stratford, Ont.

The others, all identified as U.S. citizens were Ronald P. Ponce De Leon, 22, Lawrence J. Howard Jr., 27, Pico Rivera, Calif., Edwin A. Collins, 27, Justin J. Wilson, 26, William Seymour, 25, Edmund Colby, 31, and Joseph C. Garman, 32, all of a single Miami address, and Roy E. Hargraves, 22, also of Miami.

Allen Weighing Two Positions in Religious Matter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A school board's requirement that the school day begin with a reading from the Bible, the Declaration of Independence, or recitation of a stanza of "America" is a camouflage for religious activity and should be stopped, a group of Long Island parents contend.

The school board says there is nothing in the requirement that conflicts with the recent U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing officially imposed prayers in the public classrooms.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. was weighing these two positions today. They were presented to him Tuesday at a hearing on a petition by nine Levittown parents — five Protestants, two Unitarians, a Catholic and a Jew.

George Nager, attorney for the parents, charged that the Levittown School Board's resolution, Sept. 4, authorizing the daily ritual was an attempt to evade the Supreme Court decision and Allen's subsequent ruling in a case involving the education board in Hicksville.

The Hicksville board has passed a resolution calling for recitation of a section of the Star Spangled Banner as a "prayer." Allen ruled the practice illegal on the ground that it constituted an officially imposed prayer.

In the Levittown resolution, the board did not use the word prayer.

Bertram B. Daiker, the board's attorney, told Allen the resolution provided that pupils who did not wish to participate in the opening-day exercises could leave the room.

"Why should the student have such a stigma placed on him in having to leave a room full of classmates?" Nager said.

Allen inquired if the provision "doesn't admit to the religious nature of the exercise?"

Daiker said it did not, but was inserted in conformity with a Supreme Court decision that a Jehovah's Witness had the right to be excused from saluting the flag.

Daiker also said that the school board's resolution was in keeping with the Board of Regents policy that children be inculcated with moral and patriotic tenets.

Allen gave the opposing lawyers additional time to file further with him before he decides the case.

Latest Booklets Outline Winter Health Problems

ALBANY—Winter can pose many special health problems, Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner, said today. "In addition to the usual increase in certain communicable diseases, there are also more accidents in and around the home during the winter months," he said.

The State Health Department has several publications dealing with these health problems which are available without cost to residents of New York State as a service of the Department. Among the publications are:

Stairway to Safety—This publication offers many suggestions for eliminating accident hazards in the home.

Prevent Child Poisoning—Describes the problem and suggests ways in which parents can minimize the child poisoning problem in the home.

Other State Health Department pamphlets of particular interest at this time of year are:

The Common Cold; Strep Throat; Influenza; Triple Vaccine; Whooping Cough; Mumps; and Measles.

Copies of these publications are available without cost to residents of New York State from city and county health departments, district health offices and the Office of Public Health Education, 84 Holland Avenue, Albany 8.

State Provides New Franchise Tax Return Form

ALBANY—A new and greatly-simplified corporation franchise tax return, CT-4, will cut the tax-filing paperwork by about 75 per cent for an estimated 330,000 New York State companies who file Corporation Franchise Tax returns, State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy announced today.

Corporations eligible to use the new CT-4 form may file their returns either on a calendar-year or a fiscal-year basis. For calendar year 1962, the return is to be filed on or before March 15, 1963. For fiscal year ending in 1963, the return must be filed within two-and-a-half months after the close of the fiscal year.

The new forms will be ready for distribution to corporations filing returns under Article 9-A of the State Tax Law by December 14, Commissioner Murphy said.

Too Much for Khrushchev Pushing Way Through Parties Tough on Delegates to U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—"It's grim enough dealing with Cuba or the Congo all day," said the diplomat, starting glumly at the milling throng of drinkers.

"To fight your way through this every night is a bit too much."

With 110 member nations determined to wine and dine each other before the General Assembly session ends soon, the average delegate usually winds up his day being jostled about a smoke-filled room.

Long Lines

The envoy first must stand in line up to half an hour to pay his respects to the host ambassador. Then he is free to battle his way through the packed room in search of a cocktail tray.

If the drink gives him courage to try the buffet, the guest attaches himself to another long line inching past the food tables. After receiving a plate of spiced beef or one of the volcanic curries that most U.N. parties feature, he has the final problem of finding a place to sit.

Nikita's Comment

After a three-week round of U.N. receptions and banquets during his 1960 visit to the assembly, Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a newsmen: "This life would make a stone sick."

Ten years ago the United Nations had fewer than 60 members. A delegate averaged a couple of small parties a week during the session. Now he often attends two or three affairs in one evening.

By the time the assembly is over he has gone to more than 90 such functions and consumed enough spiced food and strong drink to turn the ordinary stomach to stone.

Etiquette Requires It

He faithfully makes the rounds because diplomatic etiquette requires it, and he hopes to pick up useful information chatting with fellow delegates.

The late Dag Hammarskjold avoided social functions, but he once described the U.N. reception as a fruitful field for quiet diplomacy. His successor, U Thant, goes to parties when time permits and engages in informal exchanges he could never fit into his busy work schedule.

With the rapid growth of the United Nations, receptions have become so jammed that it is difficult for a jostled delegate to indulge in any quiet lobbying.

The growth of the world forum has posed an acute problem for the U.N. catering staff which handles parties at the East River headquarters.

Go Out to Hotels

"We can't accommodate more than 750 persons in the main dining room at one time," said Frank W. Reickert, who runs the network of bars and restaurants.

Countries with huge guest lists often solve the problem by holding their functions in New York's big midtown hotels. Oil-rich Saudi Arabia gives a glittering reception each fall at a rooftop room. Some of the wealthier African and Latin-American nations also hold lavish outside affairs.

The Soviet Union goes all-out each fall with its October revolution party. The Kremlin keeps a tight grip on the purse strings. After the first half-hour caviar, champagne and vodka are replaced by highballs and sandwiches.

Dr. James Appointed

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has appointed the New York City health commissioner, Dr. George James, to the coordinating council of the State Office of Atomic Development.

James, 47, succeeds Dr. Leona Baumgartner in the unsalaried post. She also was James' predecessor as city health commissioner.

The coordinating council comprises representatives of state departments and other agencies concerned with atomic energy.

Postmaster Says Cooperation on Yule Mail, Good

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk expressed his appreciation today for the excellent cooperation so far on his 1962 Mail Early for Christmas Campaign.

He said, however, that only by stepping up all Christmas card and gift package mailings immediately, will it be possible to process and deliver your cards and gifts by Christmas Day.

The Postmaster said further, "It looks like the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, far exceeding the mail that was dispatched and delivered in the pre-holiday season of 1961."

The Postmaster continued, "Let's not disappoint a single friend or loved one at Christmas time by putting off our Christmas mailings to the last minute."

He offered these good suggestions that are easy to follow: Be sure your return address and the recipient's name and address is plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Always use zone numbers. Avoid abbreviations of state and city names.

Try to bring your parcels to the postal windows before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. to avoid the noon hour rush.

Pack your Christmas gifts in strong corrugated cartons. Use plenty of stuffing material to insure safe delivery. Seal packages with heavy paper adhesive tape and tie them with good, strong cord. Be sure to ask about parcel post size and weight limitations when you go to the post office to buy stamps.

The postmaster suggested use of the colorful new four-cent Christmas stamp on all Christmas first class mail, they will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing name and address is included on the Christmas card envelopes, he said.

Secure free labels at the post office which read, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery". Then, separate your Christmas cards into two bundles, thus expediting handling and delivering of them at the post office, he said.

Try to get all of your Christmas presents mailed before December 10. Christmas cards for out-of-town delivery should be sent before December 15, and those for local addresses should be mailed at least a week before Christmas. The postmaster reminds: "We can make it a merrier Christmas for everybody if we will 'Mail Early—and Often'."

CHRONIC FATIGUE

Though the physical demands of life in our time are less than they were a generation ago, far more of us now suffer from chronic fatigue. Doctors understand much about the reasons of this disturbing paradox. They seem less certain about how to deal with the trouble.

That trouble is nervous, or psychological, fatigue. It does not arise from excessive physical activity, nor is it the pathological fatigue that warns of organic disease. Nervous fatigue is especially common among those who do brain work—lawyers, teachers, writers, and so on. In many cases it seems to come from anxieties and conflicts and tensions of the sort not likely to plague a man who is little concerned about the problems of society.

A shrewd hint as to the reasons for psychological fatigue is so many of us can be found in this statement by a well known neurologist: "In one day, our nerves are bombarded with more stimuli than could be squeezed into an ordinary lifetime a century ago." It is not surprising that the nervous system, attempting to deal with so many more stimuli than in the past, grows weary of the effort.

The answer to the problem is elusive. Things often prescribed—more sleep, improved diet, a restful change of scene—are not always effective. At this stage in social development, chronic nervous fatigue appears to be something that a lot of us must learn to live with.

THE HARRIED HUSBANDS

For one fellow we know, Christmas shopping is no problem. He takes careful note of gift suggestions his wife makes during the year, knows her size in stockings, nighties, jackets and other articles of apparel, and a couple of weeks prior to December 25 he phones in his order and delivery is made in good time.

Unhappily, he is the rare exception. Most husbands lack even a foggy notion of the sizes their wives take. They are even more in the dark about what is wanted.

Some wives are sufficiently kind and sensible to let their mates off the hook by accepting a check, which simplifies things remarkably. They then can get exactly what they desire, if the money provided is sufficient. They also thus avoid the job of returning the ill-fitting, wrong-colored stuff their husbands buy in their day-before-Christmas panic.

But such wives are few. Most of them, spurred by sentiment, insist on surprise, and speciously confident that this time George will come through, demand the impossible. They don't get what they want, but they get what they can expect—the wrong thing or a bad fit.

HOT FRIENDSHIP

Last words of Anastas Mikoyan, Moscow's mobile minister of mischief, as he departed Cuba:

"How firm and unbreakable are the bonds of friendship between our parties and governments."

Where have we heard that before? Oh yes, Yugoslavia and Red China were also unbreakable, unshakeable friends of Russia.

But Castro may rest assured that when other friendships have been forgotten, his and Khrushchev's will still be hot.

So hot he may get burned.

STRENGTH OF THE PEOPLE

The significant thing about the South Vietnamese victory at the outpost of Phuoc Chia the other day is not that it was the most brilliant military success in the long and arduous war against the Communists, not that 124 Reds were killed, that valuable yields of weapons were captured.

It was that information supplied by peasants helped make the victory possible. This had always been the strength of the Communists, that they had been able to enlist the aid of native peoples, whether by promises or coercion. It is what routed Chiang Kai-shek in China and defeated the great armies of France in Indochina.

It is this a true sign of a larger trend,

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
GET THE ECONOMY MOVING

The greatest single impediment to the forward movement of our economy is taxes. There are other impediments, such as the operations of government bureaucracy, the tendency to develop bureaucracy in industry, the loss of initiative by in-house seniority in management, feather-bedding in labor, etc., etc. We are an old economy, not bombed into new life by war, as West Germany was; not forced by economic desperation to reverse its methods as Great Britain has done. Besides, we have a moribund banking structure, including SEC controls which tend to stabilize risk to a point of stand-still.

However, today we shall limit ourselves to taxes. In the United States, the tax is used as a government medium to promote virtue, redistribute the wealth and to regulate business behavior. It is none of the Tax Collector's business.

Taxes are an impediment to growth under the capitalist system. The smallest tax impedes growth. However, a government requires money to service itself and the tasks assigned to it. Therefore, a government taxes.

The question that arises is how much of a tax outgo can a people tolerate without retrograding economically. In Communist countries this is answered by the government ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange. The people toil for the state on the terms which the state lays down. Human labor is not only not free; it is not a commodity; it is a device owned by government.

Taxes under such a system can only be an additional payment over and above whatever accrues to government out of profits.

In our system, where private enterprise is permitted to function without government competition, taxes are paid by industry only on profits. If taxes take too large a share of the profits, too little remains for new ideas for research and development and for growth. Because of industrial and personal and after-death taxes, the trend is sharply in the direction of mergers and monopolies. Whereas the Department of Justice seeks to break up monopolies, taxes force small enterprises to get under the umbrella of larger enterprises to prevent their profits from being dissipated in taxes.

But there is the further point that the method of collection may work as great a hardship as the amount collected. The only adjective that fits the American method of collection is brutal.

This was to an extent brought on by those taxpayers who are chiselers. They have tried to live on their expense accounts and pay as little taxes as possible. In effect, they are thieves. The Tax Collector, to deal with a few thieves, thereupon hopes to set up a sure-proof tax collecting device which is so rigid that it may bring less revenue than was expected because it will do harm to the liquor, the amusement and the restaurant business, large sources of revenue. If a salesman takes a customer to the theater in New York, he probably also takes his wife and the salesman's wife or girl-friend or what have you. That, in New York, with dinner, kills a $100 bill or thereabouts.

But under the new proposed arrangements, that salesman has to say, in detail, how and why he spent that business deduction. And so he has to involve his wife and the what have you, and maybe they will want receipts and some guy who eats a salami sandwich for lunch will ask, "Do you have to give that customer snails to get an order?" I saw some figures from a trade letter which estimates that this plan of steeper expense account reporting will take $250,000,000 out of circulation that by the normal turnover of money represents $3,000,000,000 (billion). Maybe these figures are high or low—they are an estimate and a guess, but they do represent the general view of those in the liquor, amusement and restaurant industries. Some put it much higher.

The Tax Collector is obviously trying to enforce the law, but with very bad judgement. He is increasing the bite on the individual while total revenue is decreasing. The graduated income tax is an unscientific tax under any circumstances. Cruelly collected, it falls most heavily on the lower brackets. Twenty per cent of an $80 salary is actually a larger bite than 90 percent of an income of a million dollars a year. The latter still has $100,000 a year to spend, whereas the stenographer gets a take home envelope of $64 a week, plus one deduction, which is a deep cut. It takes common sense to collect taxes and the law needs to be implemented in such a manner as not to kill the fatted goose—the American standard of living.

Don't Let Frostbite
Nip YOU This Winter

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If you live in the northern part of the country you may be exposed to frostbite on some of our coldest days. If you live in Florida you may want to go up North to visit the grandchildren at Christmas. If you have any impairment of the circulation, such as hardening of the arteries or varicose veins of hands or feet, exposure to temperatures below 10 degrees Fahrenheit can be hazardous.

The feet are especially vulnerable because the blood can get down to them, all right, but has a hard time making the return trip.

For this reason you should never stand still on a very cold day while waiting for the bus. Keep the circulation going by pacing back and forth, or, if you're afraid you'll lose your place in line, you can at least rock back and forth on your heels and toes.

If your feet actually become frozen, the picture changes. In that case walking aggravates the damage and the quicker you can get off your feet and be transported to a warm place the better.

Some people can stand the cold better than others. Even in the same person, the ability to tolerate cold may vary from time to time. The factors that determine how much damage is done are the temperature of the part (toes, fingers, nose, or ears), the duration of the exposure, the humidity, the wind velocity, and the health condition of the person exposed. Having had a previous case of frostbite increases the risk of a return attack.

Warning sensations include a stinging pain and numbness in the part. Sometimes a person whose foot has become numb due to frostbite has thought that the foot was asleep and has hopped up and down to get the circulation going.

This causes the tiny ice crystals that have formed in the tissues to act as needles and increase the damage. It is also a great mistake to remove a shoe and massage the foot. The massage will add to the injury and the injured foot will swell so that the shoe cannot be put on again.

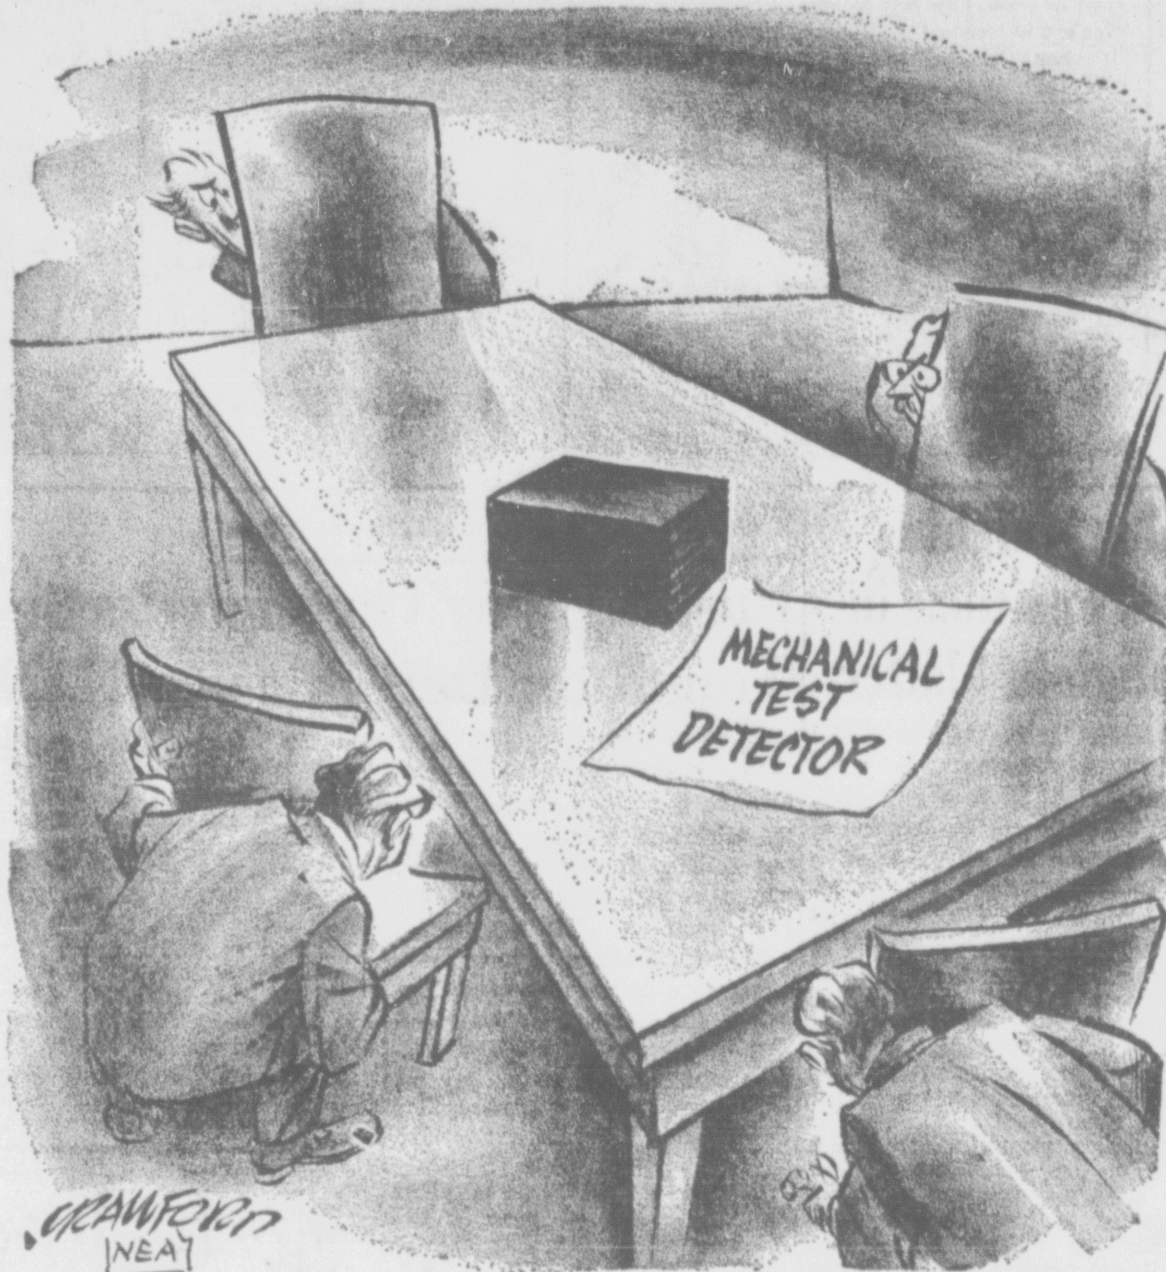

The old ideas of treatment which included slowly rewarming a frostbitten part have been shown to be wrong. The part should be put in a warm bath (100-108 degrees Fahrenheit). Once the part has been rewarmed it should be left exposed to the air at a temperature of 70 to 78. Bandaging is not necessary.

The best treatment of frostbite, as with any other disorder, is not to get it in the first place. When the thermometer approaches zero don't stay out any longer than is necessary.

If you must walk a great distance in the city, pop in and out of stores along the way. Protect the feet, hands, and face and do as many errands as possible over the telephone. When you do go out, keep moving.

the tide may begin to turn in South Viet Nam. The Communist guerrillas are not invincible. They lost in the Philippines, they lost in Greece—because the people fought, and because we helped them fight.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA)—

Richard M. Scammon, head of the Census Bureau, disagrees with those who say the population explosion may prove to be a bad thing for this country.

In his view, booming numbers by themselves are neither bad nor good—just facts we have to live with. This we can do, he says, so long as we have the resources and the social and economic organization to utilize them. He believes we have both.

"Assuming we don't foolishly turn to the trivia of internal commotion but instead maintain and develop the institutions we need to meet our problems, our only worry when the population again doubles will be whether standards of living will have doubled or tripled over today's levels."

As proof of this cheerful prospect, Scammon notes how far living standards have risen since 1910, when the U. S. population was roughly half what it is today. Says he:

"The problem now is not how to get more fat on people, but how to get it off."

Citing our gains in earnings, in education, in health and in lowered death rates, he has slight patience with romanticizing over the "spacious past."

"The good old days were lousy days," he says. "People were pellagra-ridden, ill-housed, uneducated."

"Those were the days when mama had to spend Mondays and Tuesdays boiling the wash."

IF A STABLE POPULATION were a necessary pre-condition to economic well-being, then, adds

Scammon, we should be sunk in poverty and the nations just holding even should be riding high. But we far outdo the latter.

"You can argue against the population increase on the esthetic ground that we ought to have the space," he says, "but that's a personal judgment which has nothing to do with the practical problems of growth."

Those who are not fussy about space nevertheless might be surprised at his judgment that the United States could hold the whole world's three billion people and have a population density no greater than present day Holland's.

"Though Holland is crowded," Scammon observes, "nobody is being pushed off the continent."

HE SIDES WITH THOSE who accept optimistic scientific forecasts of ample future resources, not only in America and Europe but in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

He believes the big difficulty in critical areas is disorganization—economic, social, political.

"In countries thus handicapped, you could cut the population in half and it wouldn't make any difference. You'd have the same proportion of poverty-ridden, starving people."

On the other hand, any nation which drums up the practical "institutional" answers to its problems will get along no matter what the numbers.

SCAMMON CONTENTS that this country's main population problem is not growth as such, but the "flight from the land" which finds people pouring into the urban clusters and virtually abandoning vast stretches of rural territory.

What Did U.S. Give or Take In Settling Cuba Threat?

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — U Thant, Secretary General of the United Nations, has just made a remarkable speech full of news that has heretofore been withheld from the world, including the American people.

The Secretary General announced that the Cuban situation was recently the subject of a "compromise," and he defined this as the type of negotiation which is characterized by "the principle of give and take." But what did America give and what did it take? What did the Soviet Union give and what did it take? The answers have not yet been officially revealed.

The American people will be surprised at U Thant's statement. They have hitherto been led to believe that President Kennedy won a big victory and that Premier Khrushchev suffered a severe defeat. What does the Secretary General know that has not been disclosed by the White House or the Department of State? In these days of "manipulated" news—when the idea people is defended as part of the "arsenal of weaponry"—it will take a Congressional investigation to find out what really happened.

American people on Nov. 20, said that the missile bases were muzzled itself, too. Already there are rumors that the Democrats, who were so quick to start an inquiry by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to find out about the U-2 incident in 1960 during the Eisenhower administration, now are unwilling to find out why it is necessary for the U-2s to continue flying over Cuba and what the Administration may have given away.

The present status of the Cuban affair is not clear. President Kennedy, in his statement to the being dismantled and that the

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The Lady in Red wasn't, and didn't. She was, in truth, a madam in orange. She betrayed John Dillinger to the F.B.I. and they shot him outside the Biograph Theatre in Chicago. It happened on Sunday night, July 22, 1934. They nailed him good. He was running crouched over, and one shot went into his back and came out his right eye.

Jack Lait, who was there, used to tell me about the Lady in Red. So did some Indiana cops. They said that America's Number One gangster was crazy about Anna Sage, the Lady in Red. She sold him to the Feds for the reward money. She tipped them off that he was taking her to the Biograph theatre that night.

It just wasn't so. The F.B.I. didn't tell the true story of Dillinger until now. They told it to John Toland, and he has hammered all the wrinkles out in a book he has written—not yet published—called "The Dillinger Days." It's better than television.

The police had been looking for Dillinger for a year. In Chicago and Indiana, there were special details hunting him day and night. In Washington, J. Edgar Hoover supervised teams which chased Dillinger through Indiana, Illinois, up into Wisconsin, and back again.

Dillinger was a chunky blond with squinty blue eyes. He grew a mustache, pencilled his eyebrows and mustache black, had a quick doctor mangle his fingertips and face, lost 20 pounds and took a room in a northside Chicago apartment.

Anna's name wasn't Sage. She was Ana Campanas. She was 42, born in Rumania, and she had a son, 23. She was convicted three times of operating something the police called "disorderly houses." The Immigration Bureau was about to deport her.

One of her roomers was a young waitress named Polly Hamilton. Polly met Dillinger in the restaurant where she worked. He introduced himself as Jimmy Lawrence, a clerk. Polly liked him. He liked Polly, and he used to take her out two or three times a week.

One day, when Jimmy Lawrence was waiting for Polly, Anna Sage showed him a photo of John Dillinger in a newspaper. She told him that, in spite of all the disguise, he was Dillinger. The man smiled. He thought Anna was pretty smart. She was.

She went to Sergeant Martin Zarkovich, of East Chicago, Indiana, and told him that she could put her finger on Dillinger. However, she would do it only if the Feds agreed to let her stay in America. Zarkovich and his superior, Captain O'Neill, brought the offer to Special Agent Sam Cowley at the Great Northern Hotel.

Cowley had replaced Melvin Purvis as Agent-in-Charge. He agreed to meet Anna Sage. They talked in a parked car on the edge of Lake Michigan. She wanted a promise that she would not be deported. Cowley couldn't give it. He agreed to try to help her. Anna also asked for all the Dillinger reward money. He said he'd see what he could do.

Anna said that Dillinger was going to take her, and Polly, to a movie Sunday night. Maybe the Biograph. She would phone Cowley and let him know. Sunday turned out to be hot. The temperature was 101 in Chicago before noon.

No one told the Chicago police about the ambush. Five Indiana policemen were the only outsiders on the kill. Zarkovich and Purvis and Cowley were the only ones who knew Anna. She put on a deep orange dress. At 7 p. m. she phoned. "He's here," she whispered. She still didn't know which movie house.

Both were well covered. Purvis was standing in front of the marquee of the Biograph when he saw Anna, and Polly. The man between them wore sun glasses and a straw hat. Dillinger bought three tickets and disappeared inside to see Manhattan Melodrama.

Cowley was told. He arrived with additional men, and stationed them. Purvis was advised that, if he saw Dillinger come out, he was to light a cigar. The F.B.I. wanted their man alive if he could be taken. Everybody waited. It was a long wait.

At 10:30, the theatre emptied. Purvis watched the crowd, and lit his cigar. The Agents closed in. No one said anything. Suddenly, the gangster reached into a trouser pocket, pulled an automatic, and ran. He turned down the theatre alley, leaning forward. He died quickly.

Anna Sage took Polly's arm, and ran. Her betrayal availed her nothing. In time, she was deported to Rumania, and spent the war years in hardship. She died in 1947.

On that Sunday night, Dillinger's body was taken to the Cook County Morgue. Someone tipped the Chicago police about it and Sergeant Frank Reynolds, of the Dillinger Special Squad, arrived. He was so happy to see Dillinger dead that he grabbed the dead man's hand and shook it.

So it is evident the Soviets feel they have obtained—and now wish to have confirmed—a pledge that there will be no military interference with the Communist base in Cuba and that what the Soviets are doing there will be overlooked by the United States, even though this is a flagrant violation of the Monroe Doctrine. The willingness of the United States to give up the principles of the Monroe Doctrine in exchange for the withdrawal of a missile threat is evidently the "compromise" which the Soviets feel they have achieved. But there is no certainty that all weapons capable of being used for offensive purposes have been removed or that the Soviets will ever stop launching from Cuba subversive activities aimed at other countries in this hemisphere.

OCS Board Names Sullivan Superintendent of Schools

The Ontario Central Board of Education voted to become a superintendency effective Dec. 1 and has named the current District Principal, Dr. George R. Sullivan, to the newly created post of Superintendent of Schools.

The unanimous action was taken by the board at a special meeting, following receipt of State Education Commissioner Allen's notification that Ontario's request to make the change had been granted.

Plans for the changeover have been under consideration for several months and became effective with the retirement of District Superintendent Reginald R. Bennett on Oct. 31.

Dr. Sullivan was hired at his district principal's salary of $14,250. All other administrative personnel are retained at their present salaries under the new setup.

Upon receipt of Commissioner Allen's approval, board president, Philip Gordon, requested that, in accordance with the State Education Law, the Board of Education appoint a Superintendent of Schools and enter into a contract with the appointed superintendent for a period of not less than 3 years and not more than 5 years.

Following a discussion concerning duties and responsibilities of a Superintendent of Schools, Trustee Arthur P. Knight moved the Board to go into executive session. Trustee Greene seconded the motion.

When the board came out of executive session, Trustee Knight moved that Dr. George R. Sullivan be appointed Superintendent of Schools of the Ontario Central District No. 1, effective Dec. 1, 1962, at his present salary of $14,250.

Annual Raises

As a result of the Knight resolution, which was seconded by Trustee Harry Allen, effective July 1, 1963, Dr. Sullivan will receive annual increments of $1,000 per year to the termination of the contract, June 30, 1967.

The salary may be increased at the discretion of the Board of Education at any time. A minimum of 90 days notice is required prior to the end of the contract, should either party decide not to renew the contract.

On the roll call vote, the Knight-Allen resolution was sustained by Trustees Gordon, Lloyd K. Collins, Raymond C. Cruthers, John W. Ebbs, Janet Greene, Anne Larys and the Rev. H. Chase Page.

Dr. Sullivan, who came to Ontario from New Brunswick, N.J., was appointed District Principal at Ontario on July 1, 1961. He succeeded William H. Deming, who resigned to continue his studies for a doctorate in education at Cornell University.

Dr. Sullivan attended Mynderse Academy at Seneca Falls and earned his BS Degree at Cortland State Teachers College, majoring in Health and Physical Education. In 1940, he was graduated from the University of Rochester with a Master's Degree in administration and guidance.

Prior to coming to Ontario, he was in residence at Columbia University, working with Dr. Paul R. Mort in a study involving the evaluation of teaching in rural schools. He received his doctor degree from Columbia in public school administration in June, 1961.

Dr. Sullivan's teaching background included assignments at the Romulus Central School and the Holley Central School in western New York.

From 1953 to 1957, he was high school principal at Holley, near Rochester. In 1957, he became high school principal at East Brunswick, N. J., where he played a major role in the creation of a new seven-building campus high school. He worked closely with the architect and contractors and prepared for all equipment.

He also coordinated the activities of 12 lay committees and construction equipment and curriculum development, and had the chief responsibility of hiring a faculty of 82 teachers for a body of 1,350 pupils, whom he later supervised.

From 1941 to 1946, Dr. Sullivan was in the U. S. Army. During these years he traveled extensively in Europe and rose from the rank of private to his present reserve grade of lieutenant colonel.

Since coming to Ontario, he has taken a keen interest in the expansion problems of the district and has conducted a full scale survey and projecting of future district needs. A building bond issue approaching $2,000,000 will be presented to the voters next March or April.

New OCS Setup Lists Major Differences in Procedure

The decision of the Ontario Board of Education to change its supervisory setup from District Superintendent and District Principal to that of Superintendent of Schools involves many differences in procedure.

Some of the principal differences are as follows:

1. The superintendent will be under the direction of the Board of Education which prescribes his powers and duties. He will be paid a salary to be fixed by the Board of Education and may be removed from office by a vote of the majority of all members of such Board, provided, however, that the Board may enter into a contract with each superintendent for a period of not less than three and not more than five years.

Such contract may be renewed from time to time, unless the Board of Education determines that it shall not be renewed and notifies the superintendent at least 90 days prior to its termination. Thus, the Superintendent, unlike the District Principal, does not hold tenure in his office, but operates under a contract with the Board of Education for a specific period.

2. The Superintendent of Schools recommends all teaching and supervisory staff members for appointment and tenure to the Board of Education. Thus, the additional channel of District Superintendent of Schools is eliminated from this process.

3. He will have power to commit school delinquents.

4. He will have power to employ drivers of vehicles for transportation of pupils.

In addition to the above duties, the Superintendent is expected to organize and operate the public schools under his direction within the framework established by the Education Law of New York State, the regulation of the Commissioner of Education, and the policies of the local Board of Education.

The differences between Superintendent of Schools and District Superintendent of Schools, the post retired from by Reginald R. Bennett on Oct. 31, are numerous. The DSS is a state officer who is appointed by the Board of Cooperative Educational Services and is paid by the State of New York. The Superintendent of Schools, on the other hand, is the chief school administrator of the central district, the city school system, or a village superintendency. His salary is paid by the local Board of Education.

In Ulster County there were three supervisory districts prior to Bennett's resignation. One was headed by Bennett, another by Clarence Johnson of Saugerties and the third by Lester Roosa of Stone Ridge.

One of the minimum requirements for a superintendency of schools is that there are a minimum of 4,500 inhabitants in the school district. Other standards met by the Ontario district include:

1. There must be an enrollment in grades K-12, exceeding 2,000 pupils. The OCS enrollment last year was 2,214 pupils.

2. There must be evidence that instruction is provided for all grades K-12.

3. A certified copy must be submitted of the resolution of the Board of Education indicating that the request for census and recording the actual vote of each Board member.

4. A certified copy must be submitted of the resolution of the Board of Education indicating that the district will undertake the cost of such a census.

5. There must be a submission of a certified copy of a resolution of the Board of Education indicating that the district will continue to employ different persons in each of the following positions: a) superintendent of schools; b) principal of the high school; c) principal of the elementary school; d) director of guidance and attendance.

A combination of circumstances could have resulted in one large supervisory district in Ulster county under the direction of Roosa. This could have been accomplished had Ontario, upon the resignation of Bennett as District Superintendent, become attached and a part of Roosa's supervisory district. Roosa would then become the new district superintendent for Ontario, as well as for four other central schools in Ulster county. Johnson is due to retire shortly and upon his retirement his supervisory district will be attached to Roosa's district. At that time there would have been one large supervisory district in Ulster county under the direction of Roosa. The Ontario action creating the Superintendent of Schools eliminated this possibility.

Ontora Seniors Are Selected on All-State Band

Two members of the Ontario Central High School band — Colleen Thornell and Peter Moncure — were selected for the 1962 Conference All-New York State High School Band, Harry Simon, director of music at OCS, announced.

The band rehearsed Dec. 2-4, and last night performed in a concert held in conjunction with the New York State School Music Association's annual conference convention at Concord Hotel in Lake Kiamasha.

The Ontario students, both seniors, were selected from many competent applicants throughout New York State. Both plan to major in music at college next year.

Both students have entered the New York State Music Competition twice and both times each received the highest possible rating awarded in the state.

Miss Thornell, a baritone horn soloist, received the A-6 rating and Moncure, as oboe soloist, also was awarded the A-6 rating.

The judges' comments about each of the Ontario musicians were extremely complimentary. The conductor of the band, Dr. Raymond F. Doork, director of bands at the University of Wisconsin, chose an interesting and challenging program for last night's concert at the Concord.

Master Plan Is Adopted by WPB

The Woodstock Planning Board has announced the adoption of the Master Plan for Woodstock which was completed in July by Brown and Anthony, planning consultants.

The resolution adopting the Master Plan was adopted by a unanimous vote of the Planning Board on Oct. 22, but public announcement was withheld until Dec. 3.

For Woodstock purposes, the plan is known as the Growth Plan but in all legal documents and transactions, it is designed as the Master Plan. It will later be implemented and legalized by the adoption of a Zoning Ordinance.

According to the Planning Board announcement, copies of the Master Plan are available for inspection at the town clerk's office, through Planning Board members and copies are available for reference at the Woodstock library. A copy has also been filed with the town highway superintendent.

Accidental Drowning Brings Woman's Death

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A coroner reports that a woman found in a submerged automobile in a pit created by a break in a water main died of accidental drowning.

The body of Mrs. Genevieve Rupert, 38, was found Nov. 29 by Water Department workers trying to track down a drop in water pressure.

Her husband, a farmer in South Bethlehem, speculated that his wife had pulled the automobile into a side road to regain her breath after an asthma attack and the road, undermined by the water line break, gave way.

The coroner's verdict was issued Tuesday.

SELECTED FOR the 1962 Conference All-New York State High School Band are two Ontario Central High students, Colleen Thornell and Peter Moncure.

Two Teeners Are Facing Murder in Saleman's Death

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y. (AP)—Two teen-age boys attending a private boarding school for boys were charged today with first-degree murder in the beating of a 66-year-old automobile salesman in an attempt to steal a white convertible.

Police said admission had been obtained from Edward Fontaine, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fontaine of Laconia, N.H., and Joseph MacKay, 17, son of Mrs. Rita MacKay of New York City.

The boys were from good homes, police said, and were bright pupils at Mount Assumption Institute, a fashionable Catholic school operated by Christian Brothers.

The severely beaten body of Harold Stratton was found Sunday night in the garage of the Rowe Buick Agency, where he was employed. He had been dead about four hours.

Another Taft Is Set to Appear on National Scene

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1876 Alphonso Taft was appointed to the Cabinet of President U.S. Grant. Since then, except for a few years, a Taft has been a prominent figure in the federal government — executive, judicial or legislative.
 Next January, another Taft will appear on the national scene. He is Robert Taft Jr., elected in November as congressman-at-large from Ohio.
 "Young Bob" is the son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft, three times an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for president but who became known as "Mr. Republican."

Served Four Terms

He is the grandson of William Howard Taft who served one term as president, was a U.S. circuit judge, civil governor of the Philippines, and chief justice of the United States.
 He is the great-grandson of Alphonso Taft, who served as an ambassador in addition to having been a member of Grant's Cabinet.
 "Young Bob", 45, served four two-year terms in the Ohio House of Representatives.
 His thinking on many political issues such as spending, taxation and foreign policy is close to that of his father.
 "I have never tried to pattern myself after my father," he said. "After all, 10 years have passed and we have to think of the particular time."
 There has been talk that Taft might seek in 1964 the U.S. senatorial seat now held by Stephen Young, a Democrat.

Father of Four

He says he is a firm believer that federal expenditures should be reduced except in the fields of defense and space age development. He does not favor tax cuts without a reduction in expenses. He urges an across-the-board reduction in government personnel.
 As for the United Nations, he says: "I mistrust the U.N. as a major determining factor in our foreign policy, although I believe we should work through the U.N. to maintain contact with other nations. I mistrust the present administration's disarmament policy."
 When the new congressman goes to Washington he will join his brother, William H. Taft III, a former ambassador to Ireland, who is now assigned to the U.S. Information Agency's selection agency to screen personnel for promotion.
 "Young Bob" and Mrs. Taft, a former New Yorker, have four children. Robert II is a senior at Yale; Sarah Butler, 19, is a sophomore at Radcliffe; Deborah, 16, is a junior at Concord Academy in Concord, Mass. The youngest child, Jonathan, 8, will accompany his parents to Washington.

North American Indians used the milkweed as food. They prepared buffalo meat with young green pods of milkweed, boiled clusters of budding flowers as "greens," and prepared the tender shoots like asparagus.

Local Christmas Committee Asks Public Support

The New Paltz Fire Department has again offered the available space for the Christmas Committee's use for collecting and sorting articles for the needy of the community.

Sunday, the officers were on hand to welcome anyone who dropped in to make a suggestion, nominate a needy family, ask questions, or just listen as plans for the current Christmas season were discussed and decisions made.

Two members from each of the local churches who were appointed for this job were present to become familiar with the plans and work accomplished.

For the benefit of new members in the community, the committee wishes it known that the New Paltz Community Christmas Committee serves throughout the year, but at Christmas, in attempting to supply any need for the less fortunate among the residents, it collects and distributes serviceable clothing, toys, food baskets, and baskets of fruit for shut-ins at this season, and support the work of providing Christmas for children in foster homes.

The committee also provides dental work for the needy and remembers the people at the County Home on their birthdays and other special occasions.

The community's help with supplies and funds will be asked, but the committee is first seeking ideas for improving the service and seeking names of needy persons or causes.

The officers this year are Mrs. Edna Beatty, Mrs. Gertrude Elliott, Mrs. Edna Branigan and Edgar Beebe.

Garden Club Sets Christmas Party

The New Paltz Garden Club will hold its Christmas meeting Dec. 6 in the Fireside Room of the Reformed Church Education Building at 8 p. m. The theme of the meeting is The Magic of Christmas.

Mrs. Violet Coulton and Mrs. George Bogert are the co-chairmen for the program. Hostesses are Mrs. O. Lincoln Igou, Mrs. Robert Corey and Mrs. Alfred Rollins.

The refreshment hostess chairman is Mrs. Perry Wilson. Her committee consists of Miss Josephine Palmer, the Mmes. Marion Dolan, John Glancy, George Langwich, Leland Heinz and Irving Schoonmaker.

VFW Schedules Yule Party for Children

People in the New Paltz community are being asked for donations of gifts to make a Merry Christmas for the some 300 Ulster County children in foster homes. Donations may be sent to the Christmas Fund for Foster Children, in care of Mrs. Richard Lent, Box 356, New Paltz. Gifts may be left at Mrs. Lent's home which is on Route 299, Upper Main Street, or at the Ulster County Welfare Department, 240 Fair Street, Kingston.

This is the fourth year that gifts and funds have been collected by the Brannen-Vanden-Berg Post No. 8645, and its Ladies' Auxiliary of New Paltz.

Christmas gifts received to date will be no display at a tea to be given at the home of Mrs. Lent Dec. 8 from 1:30 to 5 p. m.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You'd better watch out, Santa Claus is coming to town.

Matter of fact, his helpers already have arrived at the emporiums of Beverly Hills, where the movie stars do their Christmas shopping.

Oh, it is a grand display of baubles, bangles and beads to entice the modern-day Magi. Here you can find the answer to the perplexing problem of what to give Frank, Dean, Peter and Sammy.

I took a walk along the glittering byways of Wilshire Boulevard and Rodeo Drive, the heart of bauble belt. Even such a prosaic location as a drugstore (the Beverly Wilshire) features its perennial luxury gift: the wild-boar bristle hair brush at $300.

Kerr's sporting goods offers everything for the sport. Does he shoot? How about the Merkel over-and-under shotgun with gold engraving at $4,500? Gift-wrapped, of course.

Does he chess? Then how about a hand-carved and painted Italian chess set at $350 sans board? Does he game? There's a $395 game chest with everything from craps to checkers.

Does he press duck? The duck press goes for $97.50.

On to Saks, where you can pick up a sable coat for $10,000. You might have just enough left over to buy the ultimate in caps for a man: in vicuna at $20. Or, for the diffident, in cashmere at $12.50.

Now for the kiddies. The gift headquarters for the Hollywood small fry is Uncle Bernie's Toy Menagerie. And what goodies Uncle Bernie has to offer this year! Like a scale-model Model T Ford that really runs? It can be had for $400. Feel bouncy? There's a trampoline for $340.

The 3-h.p. cycle and sidecar with the fringe on top is selling like hotcakes at $275. There is a monorail set in the city of tomorrow at $695. Or a model train set in today's world at $700.

Like a life-sized tiger at $325? The lion, equally tame, is $350. Uncle Bernie also has some wacky rabbits from Italy at $69.95 with a rocking giraffe at $90.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

First Trick Solves Problem

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It didn't require much imagination for North to visualize a slam after South's opening spade bid.

The method of approaching the slam that North adopted meets with full approval. He started by checking for aces then checked for kings. When South showed only one king North wisely settled for the small slam.

His bidding did not preclude a grand slam bid by South. When the Blackwood convention is used properly a five no-trump bid which follows a four no-trump not only asks for kings, but also guarantees that the partnership holds all four aces. Hence, South could go to the grand slam if he thought he had sufficient additional values.

There is nothing to the play of the hand, from the expert standpoint that is. South plays dummy's ace of hearts at trick one, draws trumps, runs the three clubs and plays a second heart.

It does not matter to him which opponent wins the trick. If a diamond is led, it solves all problems about the queen of diamonds. If anything else is led, South will discard a diamond from one hand and trump in the other.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Protectionism is far from dead—on either side of the Atlantic or Pacific. And Christian A. Herter as the U.S. government's foreign trade czar may have plenty of trouble translating the President's new tariff bargaining powers into the freer trade it envisions.

American manufacturers and unions who see their sales or jobs trimmed or threatened by foreign competition will be heard from, in and out of Congress. And the new law offers various ways of protecting them.

For Members Only

The European Common Market is acclaimed for its striking efforts to lower trade barriers. But its aim is to achieve one big tariff free club—for members only. It plans to maintain at least some tariff barriers against the rest of the world, including U.S. manufacturers and farmers.

And in recent weeks the spirit of keeping these walls fairly high has been reported to be rising. Britain has been yearning to join the club. But protectionism is far from dead in the United Kingdom either, and certainly is very much alive in the British Commonwealth. Political opposition in Britain to joining the Common Market is growing louder, and is becoming bitter in many of the Commonwealth nations.

Damage to British industry, labor, farmers, and to Commonwealth producers is stressed by the protectionists.

On the Continent there is stubborn resistance to letting Britain into the club on terms that French, German or Italian businessmen and farmers fear might favor competitive British products or commodities from the Commonwealth nations.

Herter to Need Savvy

And hints have been going out that the Common Market, because of its fast growth rate of industrial production and consumer markets, thinks it is in a better bargaining situation than the United States on the question of trade barriers. Some cocky Europeans are saying that Americans need access to their markets more than they need lower tariffs here.

So Herter, a former secretary of state under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will need plenty of bargaining savvy in the post to which he was named recently by President Kennedy.

Those who saw the passage of the Trade Expansion Act as opening a new trading era in jig time are now beginning to set back their schedules.

Tariff bargaining is always a long and slow process. Too many interests are involved, on both sides of the table, for the negotiators to act fast.

This time the bargaining may be the harder for several reasons. The desire of Europeans and Japanese to protect their growing industries; the costs of production that are rising faster in Europe now than they are here, and therefore make the price protection of tariffs seem more attractive; and the very nature of the new look in world trade—the trend toward trading blocs in various parts of the world, which increase consumer markets at home and build up the volume of goods that can be exported.

Turn Diesel Cab Into Giant Card For Pakistanes

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—More than 1,000 workers put their signatures today to what was described as "the world's biggest greeting card." It is 58 feet long and weighs over 100 tons.

The massive is a diesel-electric locomotive — the 200th to be shipped to Pakistan by Alco Products Inc. As a gesture of good will, Alco workers decided to autograph it.

Inside the engine's cab, workers at the locomotive shop in La-hore, Pakistan, will find a gift from their Schenectady counterparts—basketball equipment for the shop's recreation program.

Alco workers decided to turn the locomotive into a greeting card when they heard that the Pakistani shop workers had difficulty getting top-notch basketball gear.

So they chipped in to buy some equipment, packed it into the cab and took pens in hand.

Factions to Air

Leaders struggled to heal the breach caused by the crackdown on the weekly news magazine.

Publisher's Brother Seized
Lawyer Josef Augstein, a brother of Der Spiegel's publisher, was taken into custody Tuesday on suspicion of complicity in high treason.

The previous arrests of publisher Rudolf Augstein and members of his staff touched off the turmoil that caused the exit of the Free Democrats from the government and brought on the resignation of Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

The first arrests followed an article in the magazine charging that the 400,000-man armed force Strauss built up during his six years in office was incapable of stopping any Soviet aggression.

Critics charged that Strauss had sought revenge against the magazine, which had constantly opposed him. Strauss subsequently resigned, but efforts to patch up the coalition have so far been unsuccessful.

Peking Is Hit By Italian Reds; Firm With Moscow

ROME (AP)—Italy's Communist party, the biggest in Western Europe, bluntly condemned Peking today and pledged solidarity with Moscow.

Giancarlo Pajetta, one of Italy's top Reds, turned to a Chinese delegation at the Italian Communist congress here and said his party unanimously "condemns your unjust position."

The 900 delegates rose to their feet in a cheering ovation that left no doubt where Italy's Communist party stands in the Moscow-Peking ideological dispute. The men from Peking remained seated, silently scribbling on a pad.

Pajetta's speech was the sharpest and most open denunciation of the Chinese since the congress opened Sunday.

Liberalizing Aim
Sam Rayburn of Texas and Chairman Smith. Rayburn won by a vote of only 217 to 212.

May Be Toss-up
Unless a compromise is reached to avert another fight, the outcome next month may be a toss-up.

Leaders of both warring groups privately claim they have the votes. Both concede that the result may hinge on new members elected last month. There will be 33 new Democrats and 31 new Republicans in the new house.

Conservative leaders claim the election added to their strength. Liberal spokesmen insist the opposite is true.

The Ways and Means Committee "liberalization" movement is not tied directly to the rules controversy but has a bearing on it. The committee this year side-tracked the President's medical care bill and defeated by one vote his new unemployment compensation program.

There will be two Democratic vacancies next year and liberals are backing Reps. Pat Jennings, Virginia Democrat, and Ross Bass, Tennessee Democrat, for the seats now held by two conservative Democrats.

Phone Smog Complaints
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—State and local health agencies report an increased number of telephone calls from persons seeking advice on ways to minimize the effects of air pollution.

One call was from an airline pilot who complained of lead burning he had witnessed from the air. Another was from a woman who reported she had threatened to leave home unless her husband stopped smoking cigars in the house. She wanted advice on how to convince him she was right.

The agency said the matter was outside the realm of air pollution.

Adlai Needs . . .

mittee of the National Security Council last October that a naval blockade should be imposed around Cuba to block the flow of Soviet nuclear weapons into Cuba.

Denial Made
In a statement Monday the White House denied the report and declared that Stevenson had in fact "strongly supported" Kennedy's decision for the blockade.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger also said there was "absolutely no question" but that Stevenson would remain as U.N. ambassador.

Stevenson himself assailed the article as "inaccurate and grossly misrepresenting my views."

The ambassador conferred with the President and it was in that meeting on Monday that he reportedly received the President's personal assurance of support.

May Be Plot
There is a strong impression among other officials, however, that someone is "out to get Adlai." These officials seem to have no doubt that Bartlett and Alsop obtained their information on the various opinions expressed in secret meetings of the NSC executive committee from persons the newsmen considered to be fully competent and highly authoritative informants.

This generally accepted view of the authoritative nature of the sources for the article has raised speculation Stevenson was being subjected to the same kind of treatment some other officials have experienced.

Written About Others
There were apparently authoritative critical articles written about Chester Bowles a year ago before the President accepted his resignation as undersecretary of state and reassigned him to a special White House advisory role on foreign policy. Criticism also appeared about the work of Fowler Hamilton prior to his recent resignation as director of the Foreign Aid Administration. Reports that the President did not get on well with West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe came out in advance of the disclosure that Grewe was being recalled some months ago.

See Significance
Against this background Washington newsmen and officials immediately saw a potential significance in the publication of a report that Stevenson was a disloyal traitor to the first and most important administration decision for meeting the Soviet challenge in Cuba.

The White House denial and Stevenson's own declaration that he supported the blockade measure have only partially succeeded in dealing with the issue.

Some administration officials say Kennedy was personally disturbed by the widespread assumption that Stevenson was on the skirts and it was learned that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Undersecretary George Ball were upset. Both were described by associates as strongly pro-Stevenson.

Persons familiar with the Cuban policy discussions said the President encouraged full exploration of the whole range of possible U.S. responses to the Soviet challenge—from immediate action in the United Nations to immediate invasion of Cuba.

Done by Agreement
The decision to impose a naval arms blockade fell somewhere in the middle of the range of suggested possibilities and was based on the agreement among the President and his top advisers that a limited use of force would allow Premier Khrushchev an opportunity to back down. It was understood that if he did not, stronger measures would be taken.

There seems to be no doubt that throughout the discussion Stevenson maintained the need for maximum U.S. reliance, as he saw it, on the United Nations and on the Organization of American States in dealing with the Cuban crisis.

His associates insisted that he accepted the President's decision to proceed in the manner which Kennedy announced on the night of Oct. 22 and therefore that he was not properly cast in the role of dissenter.

Asks Same Right
predicted dire results if a new tax law is interpreted as prohibiting expense deductions for the cost of having wives attend business entertainment functions.

"I do not think it was the intention of our lawmakers to create a situation whereby they encouraged a sales representative to go out for the evening with his customer without their wives. This could be an aiding factor to the moral decay of our country," Chandler said.

Other Challenges
Other witnesses challenged the detailed record—keeping that would be required by the regulations. They claimed the proposals would impose an impossible burden and discourage business patronage of hotels, restaurants and taverns, with adverse effects in the national economy and federal revenues.

This theme was repeated today by a spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers.

Would Hurt Economy
The NAM's general counsel, Lambert H. Miller, argued the proposed tax reporting provisions would "encourage a breakdown of the self-assessment tax system and curtail such business expenditures to a point of serious economic impact on many important sectors of the national economy."

Mortimer M. Caplin, IRS commissioner, opened the two days of hearings Tuesday by announcing that some of the record keeping proposals already have been discarded. He promised reconsideration of others drawing fire from some 60 witnesses who asked to be heard.

Averill Park Driver Surrenders License

ALBANY — An Averill Park man who will reach his 82nd birthday next March has decided to get out from behind the wheel of his car and leave the driving to younger persons.

Consequently, Norman H. Vickery of the Rensselaer County village has voluntarily surrendered his chauffeur's license to Commissioner William S. Hulst of the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

In a letter accompanying the license, Vickery said that in all his 58 years of driving he had never had an accident nor had he been arrested for a traffic violation but felt that his health was such that he might get involved in an accident and injure someone else.

Commissioner Hulst thanked Vickery for his foresight and his contribution to traffic safety in a letter acknowledging receipt of the license.

Dispute Delays 8-Day Cruise of Nuclear Vessel

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The nuclear ship Savannah, whose reactors can carry it whole circuits of the globe without refueling, is tied up here today by a labor dispute.

The gleaming white freighter has been idled by a controversy over wages paid its engineers. They are specially trained nuclear experts, and can't be replaced in a union hiring hall like most craftsmen.

The $3.5-million ship was to have started Tuesday on an 8-day training cruise—to train new engineers.

According to one story—by the Baltimore Sun's maritime editor, Helen Delich—29 nuclear reactor engineers aboard the Savannah have quit, but are staying aboard for safety reasons, until other engineers can be found to mind the potent reactor deep in the Savannah's engine room.

The engineers are members of the AFL-CIO affiliated Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, and sources here said the issue is being negotiated in New York headquarters.

James McKinley, port agent for the National Maritime Union, said the engineers said they were dissatisfied with salary provisions established by an arbitration board before the vessel left Yorktown, Va., on its maiden voyage four months ago.

The Savannah is operated jointly by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission and the States Marine Line, with the line handling all labor matters.

Would Use Banks To Collect Taxes

Consideration of the use of city banks as tax collecting agencies was proposed at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting by Alderman Frank A. Adams (D) Fifth Ward.

Adams, also noting recent traffic mishaps with pedestrian fatalities, held that city lighting, in part might be at fault, and he suggested that the Board of Public Works "take immediate steps to outline a long-range program for updating our street lighting system."

On the bank proposal he requested that the city clerk submit a letter to the mayor and corporation counsel for consideration of "the legal and practical advisability of using financial institutions of the city to act as collecting agencies for the collection of taxes."

Mindful of the congestion "in and around City Hall" as many pay taxes in person, he thought that since the city deposits large sums in banks, "I believe they would only too glad to extend this convenience to the citizens as a gesture of public service."

He felt it "may also stimulate bank business."

Alderman Joseph Tomaszewski (D) Sixth Ward, who had proposed a drive-in window at city hall, said he was told it would be too costly, and that a plan was being considered to permit additional parking in the City Hall area.

Adams in announcing his light program proposal, said "There can be no substitute for foot patrolmen." In view of a shortage of them, he said, "I am led to ask is there a relationship between accident frequency and shortage of foot patrolmen?"

Adams felt that poor lighting could be a contributing factor, because of areas of shadow which are not overcome by headlights. The effectiveness of good lighting he said could be observed in Port Jervis. He asked that the public works and police boards inform him of their opinions and consideration of the proposals.

P. A. Countrymen Dies; Was Local Mason Contractor

A Kingston mason contractor was dead on arrival at the Kingston Hospital around noon Tuesday after he apparently became ill during his lunch hour.

Philip A. Countrymen, 81, of 93 Johnston Avenue was rushed to the hospital by a Fatum's Ambulance. An intern at the hospital pronounced him dead on arrival.

The ambulance picked Countrymen up at the corner of Overlook Drive and Pearl Street where his firm, Philip Countrymen and Son Mason Contractors were working on a new home.

Countrymen was found in a truck during his lunch hour, apparently ill. When the ambulance arrived he had a slight pulse according to reports.

Native of High Falls
Born in High Falls, Mr. Countrymen was the son of Nathan and Mary Yeaple Countrymen. For more than 35 years he was well known in the area as a mason contractor and was actively engaged in this business with his son.

Surviving are his wife the former Ella Stokes, a son Maurice F. Countrymen, three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Clearwater of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Margaret Sutton and Mrs. Dorothy Schoonmaker, both of High Falls. Two grandchildren and seven great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held Friday 2 p.m. at the Francis J. McCordle Funeral Home, 99 Henry Street, with the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, officiating. Burial will be in High Falls Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time beginning this evening.

Expect New Nik Try to Trap West On Weapons Ban

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said today Soviet Premier Khrushchev soon may try to trap the West with another unilateral pledge to stop testing nuclear weapons.

Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference the Soviet Union appears to have abandoned all pretense at actual negotiations to reach agreement on a nuclear test ban.

The Soviet Union clearly has decided it does not want a test ban at all, Dean said, "but is trying to maneuver the West in every possible way into some sort of untested, uncontrolled moratorium arrangement."

Dean stressed that the West would never again be trapped into the position of September 1961, when the Soviet Union suddenly broke the moratorium on testing.

Driver for Struck Dairy Firm Shot At on Thruway

MONROE, N.Y. (AP)—A tank truck driver for a struck Long Island dairy firm was wounded early today when a car pulled alongside his vehicle and its occupants opened fire with a shotgun, State Police reported.

It was the second time the firm's tank truck had been shot up since the strike began, a company spokesman said.

The firm is Fairway Farms Inc., of Hicksville, struck by Teamsters Local 584 last June 22 in a contract dispute, according to a company spokesman.

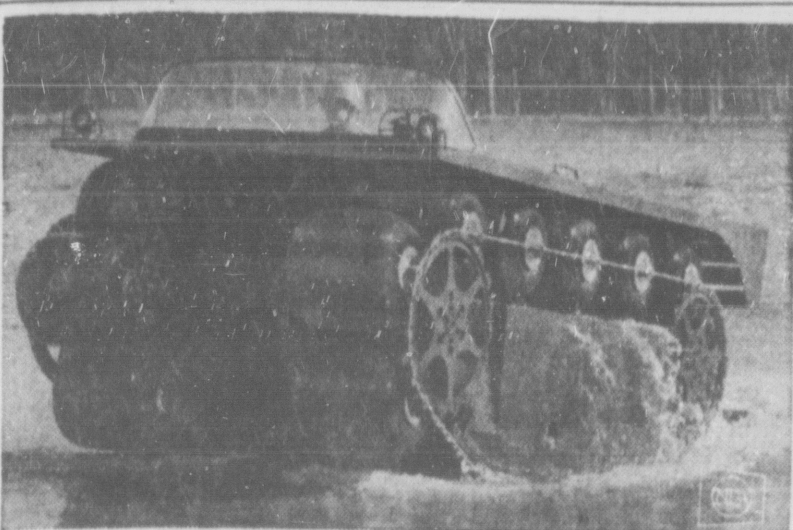

State Police identified the wounded driver as William Staryk, 41, of Jericho, N.Y. They listed him as vice president and co-owner of the Long Island concern.

He was taken to St. Luke's Hospital at Newburgh for treatment of minor facial injuries and an eye injury. The hospital pronounced him in good condition.

The shooting occurred at 1:55 a.m. on the State Thruway in the Town of Woodbury near this Orange County community.

New Yorkers In Washington

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York members of Congress expect to devote much of their time next year to agriculture, medical care for the aged, civil rights and defense contracts.

A check of New York congressional offices indicates interest also in areas ranging from general tax reform and aid to education to help for the state's Seneca Indians.

Javits Eyes Farm Role

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., born and raised in New York City, is planning a more active role in agriculture during the next Congress. New York State farm groups are helping him to draft a farm bill.

The October adjournment of Congress and the fall election campaign have interfered with the actual drafting of bills to be sponsored next year.

New York lawmakers plan to press their battle for more competitive bidding on defense contracts, a move they hope will mean more military work for the empire state.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., has said he will introduce a bill to compensate the Senecas for land the government took for the Kinzua, Pa., dam and reservoir on the Allegheny River.

Here is a partial breakdown of the other areas in which Javits and Keating plan to move next year:

Interested in Other Fields

Javits—Medical care for the aged, civil rights, creation of a U.S. arts foundation, tax cuts in the lower and upper income brackets and for corporations, a federal middle-income housing program modeled after New York's; and a compromise aid-to-education program to permit private schools to receive help for construction of facilities used only for specific subjects such as mathematics and science.

Keating—New hospital facilities for drug addicts, civil rights, ethical standards for members of Congress to avoid conflicts of interest, immigration, reduction of residency requirements for voting in presidential elections, veto by the President of individual items in appropriations bills and naming of the rose as the national flower.

Javits and Keating each spent more than $40,000 for office help during July, August and September, a report by the Secretary of the Senate shows.

They spent similar amounts during the first two quarters of the year. Javits employed 38 persons during July, August and September, and Keating 37. The total office salaries for the three months came to more than $43,000 for Javits and $42,000 for Keating.

Morgy Back on Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert M. Morgenthau is back in the federal job he gave up to run as the Democratic candidate for governor of New York.

In a brief ceremony, he was sworn in Tuesday as U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York.

Morgenthau, who lost to Gov. Rockefeller last month, was reappointed to the federal post by President Kennedy.

Central Would Drop 127.3 Miles of Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New York Central Railroad wants to abandon 127.3 miles of line between Oneida County in Central New York and Essex County in the Adirondacks.

The railroad told the Interstate Commerce Commission Tuesday the line, from Prospect Junction to Gabriels, had been operating at a loss and could not be expected to become profitable.

The line runs through Herkimer, Hamilton, St. Lawrence and Franklin counties.

Mrs. Frances Gould, violinist and member of the Hudson Valley Philharmonic participated in two more concerts given by the orchestra. They were given Sunday in Poughkeepsie and Monday in Newburgh.

Takes Greyhound Route

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Chango Valley Transit Lines was authorized by the Public Service Commission today to operate a bus route between Binghamton and Oneonta via Route 7.

The company will take over the route from The Greyhound Corp., which has been turning its local routes over to smaller lines.

Advice Available On Questionnaire For Vets' Pension

Charles L. Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, today issued a warning to veterans and survivors receiving non-service connected pension, that the annual income questionnaire enclosed with their recent check must be returned to the proper office. The veterans officials said that the correct office for return of the questionnaire is shown "in the upper right hand corner of the card."

Culver and Tyler advised recipients of the questionnaire not to delay in completing and returning the form. Failure to return the questionnaire within the allotted time may result in having pension payments stopped.

Recipients of the questionnaires are urged to take advantage of the assistance available at 32 Main Street, Kingston. Tyler or Culver would prefer completing these questionnaires with veterans, therefore avoiding misunderstandings and delays.

The local office is open Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

GOP Claims . . .

favoring authorizing the money, but Alderman William G. Davis (D-1) 13th Ward, as he had done previously opposed it mainly because he felt it would not bring better water service in his ward. The five Republicans opposed, emphasizing points in the Myers report.

Myers said that as a member of the finance committee he had discussed the proposed bond measure with Republican aldermen, "and have agreed to issue this opinion covering the Republican point of view and recommendations concerning the water board request."

Minority Leader Joseph F. Carroll Jr. (R) 11th Ward, revealed during discussion of the proposal, in reply to a question by Sass, that Mayor John J. Schwenk concurs with the opinion of the minority councilmen.

Text of Myers Report

The Myers report further explained: First of all I'd like to make it clear that the Republican minority members of the council recognize the need for enlarging the capacity of our municipal water storage facilities, of insuring the future purity of our water through modernization of our out-dated filter plant, and of improving the water flow to all parts of our city so that all residents may be assured of adequate fire protection. Nor are we opposed to guaranteeing a bond issue to accomplish these goals.

Our differences with the water board and our Democrat associates in the council lie in the timetable of the proposed improvement plan, in the fact that the plan falls short of solving the fire protection problems of many sections of the city, and in our belief that there has been a lack of forthrightness in telling the public the main reasons why this improvement plan has been speeded up at this time.

Mentions Finances

It is our belief that the prime motivation of the water board in seeking immediate approval of this $1,335,000 bond issue reflects the poor financial position of the water department, which has deteriorated to a point where the board will have to impose a water rate increase on the people whether or not the bond issue is passed. And it seems obvious that the board has chosen to push through the bond issue first on the assumption that it would not receive public support for its improvement program if it raised the water rates first.

In our opinion, the public is entitled to know these facts, for we have sufficient confidence in the people of Kingston to believe they will support needed improvements in their water system, developed along a more reasonable time schedule, whether or not water rates are increased.

Therefore, the Republican minority wishes to correct some inaccurate statements and claims made to the public in order to rush through speedy passage of the water improvement plan bond ordinance.

Will water rates increase? The water board stated in the Nov. 29 issue of the Freeman that "no increase in water rates is anticipated in the next few years" unless required by an unforeseen emergency."

Yet, Alfred D. Ronder & Co., the Board's accountant, prepared a budget study for the years 1963-65 which estimates a 1963 surplus of only $4,285, a 1964 surplus of $160 and a 1965 deficit of $45,352. The study also notes that "no adjustment (was) made for possible loss of revenues due to (the) proposed urban renewal program."

It is the contention of the minority members that a mere $4,285 surplus for 1963, and an almost invisible surplus of $160 for 1964 provides a very thin cushion against normal operating expenses, and no cushion at all against "unforeseen emergency."

Accordingly, we do not see how the water board can responsibly assure the people that "no increase in water rates is anticipated in the next few years."

Fire protection and fire insurance rate increase?

In the same Freeman article, the board also stated that "Fire protection must be improved throughout the city since it is now termed deficient by the National Board of Fire Underwriters," and went on to predict that "commercial fire insurance rates will almost certainly go up if no improvements are made."

Block Adequate Flow

However, we feel that the board has indulged in wishful thinking with its statement that "Cleaning and cement-lining of old mains, and installation of new mains should remedy this situation," for the truth of the matter is that the $1,335,000 bond issue fails to provide for replacement of the ancient 4-inch water mains that serve the majority of fire hydrants on the most streets of the city and these mains are so clogged with mineral deposits that they prevent adequate flow to the hydrants.

Nor should these facts come as any surprise to the water board or the Democrat majority in the council, for back in 1960, when both the administration and council were under Democrat control, the report of the National Board of Fire Underwriters had this to say about Kingston: "pressures (are) generally good and generally well maintained," but, "carrying capacities (are) reduced by tuberculation (mineral deposits)."

The 1960 Fire Underwriters report further recommended that "general improvement of the distribution system be made by replacing all 4-inch mains used for hydrant supply and eliminating 6-inch dead ends supplying hydrants."

Therefore, it seems evident to the minority members, at least, that the proposed water board improvement program will neither provide adequate fire protection for the majority of residents of the city, nor will it prevent an increase in commercial fire rates.

Is our water supply adequate for present or short term demand?

The water board would have us think that the city is faced with an immediate and continuing water shortage because of inadequate storage at Cooper Lake Reservoir. For example, on Sept. 25, 1962, Clinton Bogert Engineers, the board's consultants, wrote a letter to the board stating: "The importance of this project (raising Cooper Lake dam) may be realized by reference to the 1957 drought, when only 35 days supply remained in this reservoir before the fall rains increased the storage and obviated the necessity for taking water from New York City's Ashokan Reservoir." If drought conditions continue this year (while not as serious as 1957), serious depletions of the reservoir will occur, making necessary again an emergency connection to the Ashokan Reservoir."

We note that Bogert qualified his statement by explaining that the 1962 drought was not as serious as 1957's, and mentioned the possibility only of taking water, if necessary, from the Ashokan.

On Nov. 29 in the Freeman, however, the board stated "The droughts of 1957 and 1962 have pointed out the critical and immediate need for enlargement of storage at Cooper Lake Reservoir. Only provisionally was the city spared the need to buy water from New York City or to use water from inferior sources such as the Esopus Creek."

Yet two months after the drought proved far less serious than the 1957 version, the board continued to tell the public how close we came to depleting Cooper Lake and to scare us with talk of inferior sources such as Esopus Creek. It does seem strange, that if the situation was so critical, that the board did not impose regulations to curtail consumption for uses such as watering lawns or washing cars.

The minority members felt that the water board has only told one half of this story, and painted that half of the picture with gloomy paint. The other half of the supply story is demand, and demand in Kingston today is greatly reduced from the serious drought year of 1957.

In 1957, according to statistics compiled by Clinton Bogert Engineers for the water board, the average daily consumption in Kingston was 5.47 million gallons per day. This year, because of the water metering program, consumption has ranged between only 3.6 and 3.8 million gallons per day. Furthermore, by Bogert's own estimates, consumption in 1965 will rise only to 4.26 million gallons per day, and by 1970 will still be considerably below the 1957 drought consumption of 4.83 million gallons per day.

It is for these reasons that the minority members believe that the extreme pressure by the water board to rush through a $1,335,000 bond issue bears more careful scrutiny and a re-evaluation of the improvement program timetable and content.

Would Change Methods

If the financial position of the water department is as serious as the accountants and the board itself states, then we feel the board should face this problem and bring about financial reforms that will permit certain improvements to be made on a pay-as-we-go basis. And if further improvements require bond financing, we believe the board should prepare a more inclusive long-range program that will meet the future needs of the city more completely.

The minority members of the council are prepared to meet with the water board to discuss these differences in point of view, and hope the board will share our confidence in the majority and good judgment in the people of Kingston, who we believe can face the immediate and future problems concerning our water system with full knowledge of all of the facts.

Proposed authorization of condemnation proceedings to acquire the Anthony and Fannie Pagliaro property at 71 Crown Street in conjunction with the uptown off-street parking project, was left with the laws and rules committee.

It had also been proposed by Corporation Counsel Harry Gold to condemn the Theresa Kogon property at 76 North Front Street, but an agreement was reported reached on that Tuesday. Sass, Arthur Smith (D) Eighth Ward, and William G. Davis (D-1) 13th Ward voted against the salary increase for Alexander Yosman. Sass felt that Yosman was "doing a wonderful job" but while he realized he was faced with more work because of urban renewal and the projected housing for the aged program, he felt the city could wait until such time as work actually started on them to provide the pay increase.

Francis J. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward, also felt that Yosman was doing a fine job but he felt that the work load should be shared with another. He said he did not want to see the city holding the bag with one man doing all the work. Davis also felt that the work should be done by more than one person.

Association Writes

A letter from the Civil Service Employees Association noted that it has voted at a Nov. 26 meeting to request a raise for all city employees, to ask for adoption of the state hospital plan for all employees, and to request vacations of three weeks after 10 years of service and four after 15 years.

Alice Hutton, of 105 Pearl Street, through Attorney Howard C. St. John, filed a claim of $50,000 for injuries suffered last Aug. 14 in a sidewalk fall at Pearl and Green Streets, and Edward L. Depuy, RFD Accord, through Attorney Philip Korn, of Kerhonkson, filed one of $25,000 for body injuries he claims were suffered when he fell from a table as blood was being taken at the city laboratory Oct. 22.

One by Lillian Quick, of 44 Meadow Street, for Bruce W. Quick, 9, of that address, was for medical and hospital expenses resulting of injuries suffered in the downtown lot on Chambers Street between St. Mary's and Murray Streets. Richter & Werbalowsky are the attorneys and no amount was listed.

Cites Incident

Davis in opposing the bond issue for the water department cited an incident at a recent Chapel Street fire, when he learned that water pressure was inadequate for fighting a serious fire. Fire Chief James M. Brett, he said, reported not being consulted before or during the survey which led to the request for the bond issue.

Hastings felt that the stand of Republican aldermen on the bond issue proposal was "disrespectful" to Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent. The fire chief, said Hastings, who once emphasized that he was not an engineer, "is now acting like he's a professional."

Majority Leader Carroll complimented Cloonan but noted, "he is not an accountant." John Machione (R) 12th Ward, wanted to know "if the program was so urgent, why wasn't it started after the 1957 drought?"

Robert P. Slover (R) Fourth Ward, felt that Fire Chief Brett, was "one of the best" city officials and he failed to see why he was being criticized during discussion of the water department program. Frank P. Adams (D) Fifth Ward, charged that Brett "talks too much" and was deserving of criticism directed at him. Koenig felt that delay of the water department program could set the city back 15 years.

Hastings asked Alderman-at-Large Kaye to rename the fall-out shelter committee, and Kaye complied. On it are Hastings, as chairman, Edward J. Schrowang, (R) First Ward, and Donald E. Quick (D) 10th Ward. Hastings announced that a state engineer would be at city defense headquarters, city hall, Thursday at 2 p. m. to discuss air conditioning in downtown caves which have been proposed as shelters. He asked that the mayor be notified by letter and asked to attend the meeting. Hastings said it is proposed to seek a budget sum for the fall-out shelter plan.

Democrats Fail

action on the proposal to facilitate snow removal and had forwarded recommendations prepared by Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent.

Also in October, he said he had asked consideration of non-property tax revenues "to provide the budgetary capacity to grant pay raises to our municipal employees." He noted that he had made state studies and tables available to the council's finance committee.

Points to Pedestrian Safety

Again in October, he said, he had proposed action in behalf of pedestrian safety in view of the city's pedestrian accidents in September.

While the traffic committee chairman (Hastings) "last week made public his personal plan for marking cross-walks, the minority member of the traffic control committee (Myers) informs me that no meeting has yet been called to act on my request."

Hastings reported that he has called a meeting for Monday night to discuss traffic problems with the Board of Public Works.

Charges Interest Lacking

The mayor's letter noted that in November he had asked the aldermen to meet with him to discuss a law permitting municipalities to undertake capital improvement programs. He said, "with the current capital expenditure in which the city is involved, and the many major programs which are necessary in the near future, it has become necessary to plan our future capital expenditures on a long term basis." He has, to date, had "on expression of interest."

On a special assessment for a Ponchockie sewer project, he asked for action to "correct the inequality that exists between the two groups of taxpayers served by facilities financed under a single bond issue." The aldermen voted approval of the assessment last night with Alderman Frank A. Adams (D) Fifth Ward dissenting because he felt there were still problems to be solved. He asked that action be delayed a month.

In November also, the mayor said, he had requested consideration of continuity of government and forwarded "a memorandum and sample local law received from the New York State Office of Local Government," and no meeting has been held to discuss the matter.

No Report on Work Plan

It was in June, the mayor noted, that he asked for adoption of a resolution to permit the assignment of employable home relief recipients to municipal work not regularly done by city employees, with the understanding that such work would not be paid for from city funds. No report was made on the resolution, he said.

Hastings held that Mayor Schwenk's letter was an attempt to carry his "campaign promises" over to the Democrats. He said he, Hastings, was being criticized for lack of action on pedestrian traffic, but he was "here before Schwenk" and had acted on such matters. He felt that the mayor was "lowering himself" in blaming recent city accidents on the traffic committee.

Koenig held that his finance committee had sought response from the mayor on water board and tax relief measures and a sales tax measure had been suggested for consideration. "We are waiting for information," he said.

Carroll said "the minute the mayor invites them to confer with him, they (the Democrats) say he is passing the buck." Hastings, he said, led the council to believe that he knew nothing at a previous meeting about the condition at Maiden Lane and Albany Avenue where a sign had been placed. He read a letter from Superintendent Cole to Hastings dated Oct. 8, to show that Hastings had been informed of conditions and of action taken.

"Hastings," said Carroll, is taking too much on his own—too much which he is not capable of doing. He is a Dennis the Menace to this council."

Sass claimed that the mayor at the outset, "told us he was going to run the city." The mayor, he recalled, said "I'm going to make the decisions." Sass said, however, that the mayor did cooperate with the aldermen on the August Esopus Creek bridge emergency.

Sass claimed that the mayor, in his message to the council at the start of the year said he, himself, was going to investigate such matters as gaining a new source of tax revenue.

Hastings, replying to the Dennis the Menace charge, asked if there was any Republican in the council who did not get his aid on traffic problems. None answered. He held that the controversial sign at Maiden Lane and Albany Avenue, had been placed without knowledge of the traffic committee.

Carroll recalled his bid some time ago for a two per cent raise for police and fire department personnel. If action had been taken, he said, the city would not be in the position of trying to compensate for six years in which no action had been taken.

Adams proposed that the mayor "come up with his tax relief plan. This is executive business. I wouldn't call the mayor a dictator, but he has his own way of doing things." He doubted if he possessed "the full meaning of cooperation."

Hastings felt a "letter was in order," asking the mayor for his recommendations concerning a sewer tax proposal which had been made by Hastings.

Adams said "We should sit down, the 13 of us, and find out, who is to do what?" Carroll, at one point felt that Council President Kaye was trying to "muzzle" him. Kaye said he had been in the chair for five years and did not feel he had muzzled anyone.

Sass wondered if any member of the council knew the mayor's

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—A renewed stock market rally pushed the list higher, leaving some casualties early today. Trading was heavy.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional, a few going to a point or so. The "glamour" issues posted somewhat larger gains.

Chrysler, which paced the list yesterday as it surged to its highest level since 1957, encountered some profit taking at the start and eased, then recovered to a fractional net gain. Most other motor stocks edged to the upside.

Trimming of prices for steel sheet was accompanied by a mixed price pattern among the major steels. Small losses were taken by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem.

Investment buying was drawn to the oils.

Utilities, tobacco, building materials, drugs, and mail order-retails were mixed.

Rails were mostly unchanged to slightly higher. Airlines, rubbers, and electrical equipments also showed an upside trend on balance.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher.

Corporate bonds were higher.

stand on the water bond proposal. None appeared to know, but Carroll later revealed that the mayor went along with the Myers report.

Machione, giving his opinion on the mayor's letter charging lack of action on seven proposals, said: "Nobody here will be hurt too much, but I don't think we should bounce the ball back and fourth so much. The discussion, he felt, was 'evidently a smoke screen' and nobody was being helped.

Widow Cleaning List
Shows Good Judgment

Q) "I am a widow with three school-age dependents. My holdings are equally divided between savings, real estate and stocks. I should very much like to improve my stocks in quality and growth. I own Pfizer, Texaco, and General Railway Signal. I would like to sell the latter stock and re-invest in Central Hudson Gas & Electric or United Illuminating. Which do you prefer?"

—B. Z.

A) I should like first to commend you for the intelligent way in which you are handling your money.

General Railway Signal is by no means a bad stock, but there is very little likelihood of growth here. Both your suggested replacements are excellent utilities.

Central Hudson serves a growing area in the Hudson River Valley in New York State. Both stocks have a record of consistent dividend increases, but because of the stronger growth outlook, my choice would be Central Hudson.

Q) "All of our money is in Treasury bonds which yield us 4 per cent at the price we paid for them. What do you think of this set-up?"—J. G.

A) The way the stock market has acted this year, you're very fortunate people and I congratulate you.

Treasury bonds are the safest securities in the world and when you hold them you'll have a good income and absolute peace of mind. Since their income is fixed, the one thing they will not protest you against is inflation, which can make your dollar worth less in purchasing power in the years ahead.

I think it is fine to own Treasury bonds but if the return from them will represent your entire income when you retire, I would hedge a little against inflation by switching part of them into a few good stocks. Such shares as American Telephone, Procter & Gamble, and General Foods can appreciate in value, over a period of time, sufficient to offset any future dollar devaluation.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions, possible in his column.

An Indiana woman sued her maid for stealing her husband. It isn't safe to leave some things around the house.

They tell a story of a man who came into Omaha one day and wanted to trade his farm for some city lots.

Real-estate Agent—All right, get into my buggy, and I'll drive you out to see some of the finest residence sites in the world—water, sewers, paved streets, cement sidewalks, electric light, shade trees, and all that sort of thing.

And away they drove four or five miles into the country. The real-estate agent expatiated upon the beauty of the surroundings, the value of the improvements made and projected, the convenience of the location, the ease and speed with which people who lived there could reach town, and the certainty of an active demand for such lots in the immediate future. Then, when he was breathless he turned to his companion and asked:

Real-estate Agent—Where's your farm?

Farmer—We passed it coming out here. It's about two miles nearer town.

A cut in the present 40-hour week will not be a cure to our current economic problems in general or to our unemployment problem in particular.

Teacher—Johnny, can you tell me what a hypocrite is?

Johnny—Yes'm; it's a boy who comes to school these days with a smile on his face.

A man was playing golf with his wife one day. Driving for the fifth hole he sliced viciously. The ball departed from its intended course and struck a woman who was also golfing with her husband.

The second husband, quite incensed, walked over to the offending player.

Second Husband—Why don't you watch what you are doing? You have struck my wife!

First Husband—Too bad.

Glancing Over TV

Repertory Group Dramas in Plan For Next Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The most positive, stimulating news to emerge from network television in many a month is that NBC next season will sponsor a weekly dramatic anthology series of original dramas performed by a repertory company.

Richard Boone, a skillful actor who for the past six years has been getting bored (and rich) in CBS' "Have Gun. Will Travel!" will be host and weekly performer in the series. Sometimes he will star. Other times he will play the butler.

The regular company will be carefully chosen with the idea of making it a tight, smooth team under executive producer Mac Benoff, a television and stage writer.

Like icing to a good cake, Clifford Odets will serve as editor and sometimes writer of the scripts. Odets has never been involved in a television series before, but is a playwright with eminent credits, including "Waiting for Lefty," "Golden Boy" and "The Country Girl."

The series, to kick off next September, is a package by the Goodson-Todman organization, which has been so successful with its series of television game shows but which has been hankering to get into the area of drama. It will be filmed in Hollywood.

Benoff believes that by developing a working unit of actors, each one capable of playing a lead one week and a minor character the next, and by limiting the number of directors (he hopes to have no more than two) that he can produce something vital and meaty.

The prospect almost makes up for NBC's decision-announced almost sheepishly—to fill two Monday night hours the rest of this season with re-runs of six-and seven-year-old movies.

NBC's "Don't Call Me Charlie," will, as anticipated, be canceled late in January and its Friday night spot be taken by "The Price Is Right," currently suffering a drop in audience pitted against CBS' Monday night comedy powerhouse.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 EST —

Carol Lawrence and Johnny Mercer; "The Assassins," CBS, 10-11 —Circle Theatre dramatized actuality about a professional political killer.

In the supermarkets you can find low calorie bread, sodium free bread, cracked wheat bread and endless other varieties. Bread is chiefly made from seven grains: wheat, rye, corn, barley, millet, oats and maize. But in time past when these grains were not available, bread was made from acorns and the inner layers of pine bark. In times of famine it was even made from a bit of flour mixed with straw, sawdust or even with earth.

Going to Los Alamos (Atom Land) Friday

President Will Inspect Work On Reactor for Ships to Moon

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP)—
President Kennedy's trip to Los Alamos Friday holds a symbolic meaning for this country's history.

On that day in 1941 World War II started and it was from that war that Los Alamos started work on the atomic bomb. The bomb ended the war.

In a way, Los Alamos was spawned on that date and it is conceivable that without that event it would still be a mountain retreat for boys instead of a hustling city of 13,500 persons busily engaged in supersecret nuclear experiments.

The President has never been to Los Alamos. He will find a community that is spread across the Pajarito Plateau—a series of finger mesas created by long-ago extinct volcanoes—in the Jemez Mountains.

Tough to Get There
It sits almost atop a mountain at 7,300 feet. The only access is by airplane, helicopter or on a twisting, turning mountain road.
The Hill City, as it is called by the natives, is 35 miles northwest of Santa Fe and 96 miles north of Albuquerque.

It has only been since February 1967 that the high, wire fence and the pistol-packing guards were removed. But a supersecret complex has remained with the city.
Probably the sensitive nuclear work and the inaccessibility of the city have helped to develop this complex.

To Make Inspection
One of the main reasons for the President's coming to Los Alamos is to inspect the work being done to build a nuclear reactor to propel space ships into prolonged flights to the moon or the planets. The project is called Rover, which is a part of Nerva (nuclear engine for rocket vehicle application).

The Kiwi reactors, named after the flightless birds of New Zealand, are being developed as engines for the giant space ships.

Set Up in 1955

Project Rover was set up in 1955 under the Atomic Energy Commission but has been taken over by the Space Nuclear Propulsion Office, a governmental agency staffed by personnel from the AEC and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The first planned use of Project Rover is the development of a nuclear third stage for the Saturn C3 manned lunar landing operation. With the nuclear third stage, a single vehicle would be all that would be needed for a landing and a return from the moon. Otherwise, a chemical-fueled rocket would require two-launch renews-als of C3s or the development of a much larger chemical rocket.

Important Advantages

The most important advantage of nuclear rockets is that they can use hydrogen as propellant.

Hydrogen is more than a dozen times lighter, per particle, than the combustion products used to propel chemical rockets.

Rover reactors must generate great power on small fuel volume. To create the rather modest thrust of 50,000 pounds a reactor must produce about one million BTU per second, or enough energy to boil away a ton of water every two seconds.

Four Roses is America's most wanted—and welcome—gift whiskey. So we try to make sure there will be enough holiday decanters to go around.

Last year, we confess, we were somewhat short in our calculations. We're taking steps to correct the error this year.

Still, it could happen again.

Take a look at this year's decanter. Pretty elegant, that crystal-cut design. Pretty fit showpiece for a great whiskey. Judging from past experience, we can only say—shop early for this one. Very early.

Don't forget, it costs just pennies more to give Four Roses. No extra charge, of course, for the de-cancer fifth, with gift carton.

(No added cost, either, for Four Roses in regular bottle sizes, wrapped and ribboned.) $4.95 $6.00

Matter of Road Billboards As Eyesore Is Minor Point

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The chairman of a legislative committee that is drafting bills affecting billboards says the committee's first consideration is highway safety, the second is economic, and the question of aesthetics is way down the list.

Chairman Donald A. Campbell, R-Amsterdam, referred to the aesthetic question as "the garden-club viewpoint."

Assemblyman Campbell outlined his position after a hearing Tuesday of his Joint Legislative Committee on the State's Economy.

The committee heard representatives of the State Thruway Authority and the State Public Works Department speak in favor of more restrictive billboard legislation.

Campbell's committee is considering alternate proposals to tighten and to ease billboard regulations on the Thruway and on New York links of the interstate highway system.

R. Burdell Bixby, Thruway Authority chairman, argued against any relaxation of the regulations. He said the only purpose of billboards was to distract motorists for advertising gain. Distracted drivers are the primary cause of rear-end collisions on the Thruway, Bixby said.

Billboards now are forbidden within 660 feet of the right of way of the Thruway and interstate highways, which are built with 90 per cent federal funds.

Thomas J. Bennett of the Public Works Department said the department wanted the 660-foot limit also placed on state expressways, such as the Southern Tier, Genesee and Long Island expressways.

Campbell said the committee would make its recommendations to the 1963 Legislature, which convenes next month. He declined to speculate what they might be. He did not rule out the possibility that the committee might advocate easing the 660-foot limit on interstate highways, even though this could cost the state $2 million in federal funds.

The federal government provides additional funds to states that limit billboards along interstate routes.

Campbell said his committee would make its recommendations primarily on the basis of safety. He said he had not decided whether billboards were a safety hazard.

The second most important guide, he said, would be the economic impact of any change on the outdoor advertising industry. He said the industry was an important employer and taxpayer in the state.

As for the question of whether billboards constitute eyesores, Campbell said the state's police power applied only to matters of health, safety and welfare and not aesthetics.

Decorate Power Dam With Rocky's Effigy

MASSENA, N.Y. (AP) — The Robert Moses Power Dam on the St. Lawrence Seaway was decorated Tuesday with a hanged effigy of Gov. Rockefeller and a sign that said: "Rocky Unfair to Moses."

Rockefeller has asked Moses to step down as chairman of the State Council of Parks. Moses said "Rockefeller wanted him out of the way so he could appoint his brother, Laurence S. Rockefeller, to the post."

Moses resigned from the parks council and four other state posts, including the chairmanship of the State Power Authority.

Found Dead in Field

EAST NASSAU, N.Y. (AP)—A 68-year-old farmer was found dead in a field on his Rensselaer County farm Tuesday night and State Police theorized he had shot himself accidentally.

The victim was Morton E. Miller. He had been dead about 26 hours, troopers said.

Troopers said Miller had taken a .30-30 caliber rifle with him on his tractor and had alighted to shoot at game. Police theorized he was attempting to reload the rifle when it discharged. The bullet struck him in the head.

Accord Man Hurt in Crash

A 22-year-old Accord man was injured at 4:45 a. m. today when he apparently fell asleep as he drove his car north on Route 9W north of Marlboro, crashed through five guard posts and struck a tree. Highland State Trooper John Salter said Kenneth J. Barr, Box 252, Accord, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh. He was treated for lacerations of the face, a cerebral concussion and a fractured nose. Trooper Salter reported Barr fell asleep and the car careened out of control.

More Policemen Are Summoned In Vice Tie-in

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The State Investigation Commission summoned more policemen today to testify about alleged links between the police department and gambling, prostitution and narcotics.

There was speculation that Police Chief Harold F. Kelly might leave office.

The six-day hearing opened Tuesday with a commission investigator characterizing the police department as infested with graft, inefficiency and poor leadership.

Several policemen testified of lack of confidence in superiors, threats by gamblers and police inactivity in enforcing laws against gambling and narcotics.

Daniel Sullivan, an assistant counsel to the commission, summarized sworn testimony given the commission earlier by prostitutes. The testimony established that a call-girl operation flourished here for years with the knowledge of Syracuse police, Sullivan said.

Sgt. James Longo said he never had received acknowledgement from superiors that they had received his report listing 40 suspected narcotics users and pushers. He said he submitted the report three years ago.

Capt. William McCarthy said, however, that many of those listed had been arrested subsequently by state authorities and, on occasion, by Syracuse policemen.

The Syracuse Post-Standard said today that the police chief "appeared to be on the way out."

The story said at least two other top police officials would lose their posts.

Kelly, 61, told the newspaper, however, that "there is nothing I know of that can make me resign." He has been on the force for 37 years, the last 7 as chief. He is scheduled for retirement in 1965.

The commission has been conducting a closed inquiry here since last May. The investigation is an outgrowth of statewide raids three years ago on organized gambling. Syracuse was termed the hub of Upstate gambling operations.

Two Hunters Killed

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP)—Francis Sidney Stanton, 35, of Hancock, N.Y., R.D. was shot and killed while hunting deer Tuesday in the Winterdale area of Buckingham Township, Wayne County.

Another hunter, Michael E. Wlock, 33, of Oakland, N.J., was charged with killing a human in mistake of game.

Not All Press Leaks Come From Reporters

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last of a series of three analyses on government information policies.

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — News from President Kennedy's administration isn't always handled in a goldfish bowl.

Kennedy himself is probably more accessible to reporters who want to see him than any president. The resulting stories, as this writer sees them, are not always happy, however, because of the rules covering such meetings.

Is Nothing New

By not revealing they were obtained in an interview and by not even indicating the President did the talking, they sometimes serve as simple publicity pipelines for Kennedy's views without his having to be responsible for them.

The practice is not new. Other presidents have done the same, in one way or another. Off-the-record dinners or lunches with government officials are a kind of Washington folk custom.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, more and more has developed the habit of talking to reporters for background only—meaning what he says can't be attributed to him directly.

At the same time, other sources in the White House, within the bounds of any highly sensitive situation, have been accessible to reporters and occasionally very helpful.

Tuesday night in Pittsburgh, Salinger said, "Information has never been more accessible in Washington than it is today." He took newspapers to task for what he called their failure to deal effectively with irresponsibility within their own ranks.

Some Stories Are Fed

But there is also within the Kennedy administration the kind of story that is fed or leaked to reporters and damages key people around Kennedy. Two examples: The cases of Chester Bowles and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Back in 1961 Charles L. Bartlett, close personal friend of Kennedy and Washington correspondent of The Chattanooga Times, wrote that Bowles, then undersecretary of state but not for long, had created a sense of disorder in the State Department and would continue to do so while he kept his job.

Bowles wasn't dropped immediately. But from then until he was removed, and given a job as special adviser to Kennedy, rumors persisted he was on his way out.

Now in this week's Saturday Evening Post, Bartlett, but this time along with Stewart Alsop, who is said to have fine contacts within the administration, reported on the "harried, secret" October days when Kennedy and his advisers decided on a showdown with Russia over its missiles in Cuba.

Secret though all this was supposed to be, Bartlett and Alsop report on who said what to Kennedy. But when they get to the part played by Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, they quote a "nonadmirable" official as saying Stevenson "wanted a Munich" by making concessions to Russia.

Likely From JFK Aide

A new storm broke: Was the administration getting ready to bounce Stevenson, as it bounced Bowles? Unless Kennedy now publicly backs Stevenson his value at the United Nations seems badly damaged.

Nothing here is intended to suggest Kennedy himself did the feeding or leaking about Bowles or Stevenson. But somebody around him did, and perhaps the somebody didn't like either man to begin with.

The administration has been criticized by the press for the way it clamped down on news during the Cuban crisis. But Salinger said Tuesday night that, while the administration did put the lid on information affecting national security, it withheld no legitimate information.

But 18 months ago The Associated Press reported, when there was no crisis, that "access to news sources" under the Kennedy administration is "managed" because Defense Secretary Robert

S. McNamara attempts to "determine who and under what circumstances newsmen interview or contact officials."

Reminder of Order

McNamara tightened up almost from the time he took office in 1961. So it was only a reminder of a standing order when, during the Cuban crisis, Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, instructed all Pentagon officials to report to him the substance of all interviews with newsmen. That order still stands.

The State Department issued similar instructions to its officials during the Cuban affair, but later withdrew them. This writer has been pretty reliably informed that an order similar to Sylvester's was given to all division chiefs in the Department of Justice, not in writing but verbally.

That department is headed by Kennedy's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. The public affairs chief there is Edwin Guthman. When this writer sought to reach them Tuesday, for confirmation or denial, the answer was that both were out of town.

Cryogenics is the science dealing with temperatures below 300 degrees Fahrenheit. The name comes from a Greek word meaning "icy cold."

Hong Kong Rug Not as Good as Locals: Legislator

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A legislator from the state's carpet-making center says the Capitol's newest tourist attraction—a rug made in Hong Kong—is not as good as that available in Amsterdam.

The rug, a spectacular multi-colored replica of the state seal, "just looks strange to me," Assemblyman Donald A. Campbell, R-Amsterdam, said Tuesday. But, he added, "I can't literally say it looks Oriental."

Critics of the $1,200 rug contend that the figure of Liberty in the rug looks like a slant-eyed Oriental maiden and that a sloop looks like a Chinese junk.

Assembly Speaker Joseph W. Carlino, who ordered the rug, says it is an exact copy of the state seal and one of the finest items in the Capitol.

Campbell's home city is the headquarters of Mohasco Industries Inc., a leading carpet-manufacturing company. The city also is troubled by unemployment.

The contractor given the $50,000 Assembly re-carpeting job by Carlino said the Hong Kong plant was the only source for the state seal under the time and money provided for the job.

But, after inspecting the rug, Campbell told newsmen that any additional expense "would have been worth it to have it done in New York State."

He said the quality would be better if the rug had been made in Amsterdam. "I'll put my money on Amsterdam weavers," he said.

Why We Say--

DANDELION 12-5

LION'S TOOTH: This well known yellow flowering-weed was named after a lion's tooth. The word comes from the French "dent de lion" or lion's tooth. It was so named because of the resemblance its jagged leaves have to lions' teeth.

A GIFT OF AN OIL PAINTING

Q: A man with whom I have been friends for quite some time bought me an oil painting (price about $65) for a gift. There is nothing serious in our friendship; we are simply good friends. A few weeks ago we both had occasion to visit an antique shop. At that time I admired this oil painting and said I thought I would buy it as soon as I got the money. Last week he called and told me he had bought the picture for me and I could pick it up at the antique shop any time. I would like to know if it would be proper to accept this picture as a gift or should I pay him for it as I said I was going to buy it. Some of my friends tell me it would be an insult to even try to pay him for it and it would be entirely proper to accept it as a gift from him. May I please have your opinion?

A: You may properly accept the painting as a gift, but I don't understand why he expects you to go and pick it up yourself instead of sending it to your house.

Including Absent Husband

Q: A month ago my husband, who is in the service, was sent overseas. He will be gone a year. In sending our Christmas cards, will it be proper to include his name with mine even though he is not here or should I send them in my name alone?

A: It will be proper to include your husband's name with yours on the Christmas cards even though he is overseas. Not to do so might give some the impression that there has been a rift in your marriage.

Cocktails Are Not Necessarily Alcoholic

Q: I enjoy a cocktail before dinner and usually order one. When I invite a friend to dine with me who does not drink alcoholic beverages, may I

Food Fit for Teenagers

More than 20 million teenagers are in our population, and their numbers increase by a million a year. On the whole teenagers are well fed, but their diets could use improvement with respect to certain nutrients. No special foods are required to keep teenagers well fed. But careful planning of the kinds of food selected as well as the amounts eaten will assure a satisfactory supply of the nutritional essentials, says Louise M. Kakargo, assistant home demonstration agent.

Studies show that generally teenage boys are better fed than girls, and younger teenagers have more desirable food habits than older ones.

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is the nutrient most commonly lacking in teenage diets. Calcium, thiamine (a B-vitamin), and iron are also frequently low in the diet of teenage girls.

Calcium is low in diets when teenagers do not drink the recommended amount of milk. Some teenagers believe that milk is fattening and so omit it. Vitamin C is deficient largely from skipping breakfast and so not eating a citrus fruit or substitute.

During adolescence a spurt of growth occurs, and diets high in protein, calcium, and vitamin D are required to take care of growth needs. A boy's nutritional needs are higher at this time than at any other age. Girl's needs are greater only during child bearing. Teenagers and parents may not understand the need for increased nutrients.

Young people are very active in their teen years and need a diet adequate in calories to supply the energy needed for their activities. Some begrudge spending their time in eating and prefer to grab a snack on the run. Often teenagers eat away from home and may make poor choices in the foods they eat.

Teenage girls may not be as well fed as boys because they eat about one-third fewer calories; many are weight watchers. The few calories they eat, the more important it is for them to choose nutritious foods. Foods with empty calories often replace ones with important nutrients—foods with needed proteins, minerals, and vitamins are often replaced by those high in sugar and fat. Teenage boys typically eat so much food that they get nearly enough of the necessary nutrients, perhaps by chance rather than by plan.

To help teenagers build good eating habits, stress with girls that good food helps to maintain a good appearance; with boys that good food helps build strong bodies. Some key areas for improvement include:

Breakfast—Encourage teenagers to start the day with a good breakfast of citrus fruit, cereal and milk or toast and egg, and milk.

Snacks—Provide snacks that include vital foods, fruits, vegetables, protein-rich foods, milk. Eliminate snacks that are high in calories and low in nutritive value.

Variety—Encourage teenagers to eat a variety of foods each day. Unconventional meal patterns are not serious so long as the recommended nutrients are eaten daily. Each day include at least four cups of milk; two servings of meat, fish, poultry, or eggs; four servings of whole grain or enriched cereals and bread; and four servings of fruits and vegetables, including one citrus fruit and one deep green or yellow vegetable.

Panel on Modern Art Scheduled on Sunday At New Paltz Gallery

"Modern Art: Is It Rigged?" will be the subject of a panel discussion on Sunday at 8 p. m. at the New Paltz Gallery. Ilya Bolotowsky, Maurice Golubov and Benjamin Karp are the three panel members.

Ben Karp, professor of art at the State University at New Paltz, is sculptor, educator and author. Well known for his drawings and sculpture, he is also author of the book, "Ben Karp Archives of Saw Ornamentation in American Domestic Architecture," which is in the architectural library at Columbia University. He is also author of the film, "New Ways of Seeing," produced and directed by Robert Tilton. Karp has exhibited at the Museum of Modern Art and the Metropolitan Museum, and his work is in the permanent collections of the Pennsylvania Academy, the Cone Collection at the Baltimore Museum, as well as in several European collections, including that of the late Leo Stein.

Maurice Golubov, Woodstock summer resident, is coming from New York to appear on the panel. Golubov has exhibited in the Brooklyn Museum, the Whitney Museum, the Metropolitan, and the Museum of Modern Art, at the Betty Parsons and Zabriskie galleries, all in New York. He held a one-man exhibition at the Gallery Mayer, in New York, in 1961, has shown frequently in Woodstock as well as in several European galleries.

Ilya Bolotowsky, professor of art at the State University, has been with the Grace Borgenicht Gallery in New York for some years. He has exhibited repeatedly there and at the Whitney Museum, the Museum of Modern Art, at the J. B. Neumann, the Rose Fried and other New York galleries. His work is in the permanent collections of the Phillips Gallery, the Guggenheim, the Whitney Museum, the Chrysler and Olsen collections, the Proctor Institute, Brandeis, New York and Yale University collections, the Lyman Allyn Museum, and others. Bolotowsky exhibited in the 1939 Worlds Fair in New York, and last year showed in the Seattle Worlds Fair. His most recent mural is on view at the new Cinema I in New York. ## Local CP Center Part of Albany Telethon Group

An 18½ hour telethon, sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy of the Albany capital district, will be presented by WTEN-TV (Channel 10) beginning Saturday, Dec. 22 at 11 p. m. and continuing until 5:30 p. m. the following day, Dec. 23.

The Cerebral Palsy Center at 400 Broadway, Kingston, a member of the Ulster County Community Chest, is among the affiliates of the capital district organization which will participate in this telethon. Residents of the Kingston area will have an opportunity to make pledges or contributions during the show, which will originate in the Washington Avenue Armory in Albany.

Other affiliates are the cerebral palsy organizations in Glens Falls, Amsterdam, Pittsfield, Mass., and Canajoharie. Funds collected during the telethon will be used to help further the work of CP Clinics in Kingston and those communities in their endless fight against the handicapping disorders.

Cablevision, Inc., Pearl and Wall Streets, will carry the telethon from Channel 10, and the Ulster County CP Association will establish local headquarters in the Ulster County Savings Institution, 280 Wall Street, where telephones to receive local contributions and pledges, will be manned during the program. Television sets also will be installed at the bank for around-the-clock viewing.

Masters of ceremonies for the telethon, in which several Kingston area entertainers are scheduled to participate, will include Pat Harrington Jr., Frank Fontaine and Eileen Woods. The show will be produced by Malachy M. Glynn, national telethon producer for United Cerebral Palsy.

Local committee members include Mrs. Martin Oberkirch and Mrs. John Feltham, co-chairmen, assisted by Miss Mary Keresman, Lawrence Jensen, Mrs. Charlotte Peck and Clarence Hansen. Lewis Sywer is chairman of the Albany telethon committee.

People in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Countess of Coventry—the former Mimi Medart of St. Louis, Mo.—won a divorce in London on the ground that her husband misbehaved with an unidentified woman.

Coventry, 28, did not contest the legal action by his wife, 27. They were married in 1955 and have a son, Viscount Deerpur, 5.

An heir to the extinct Bulgarian throne was born in Madrid, Spain, to Margarita Gomez Acebo, Spanish commoner wife of exiled King Simeon.

The king went to Spain many years ago and married Margarita last Jan. 20 at Lausanne, Switzerland. The child will be named Kardam, prince of Tinovo, a title given only to Bulgarian heir princes.

Lions Hear Talk On W.I. Airports

World War I and Airports was the theme at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of Kingston Lions Club held at the Governor Clinton Hotel, during which David Fox, local IBM employee and World War I pilot showed a film of many types of aircraft used in that war.

The guest was introduced by Stuart Munson, club president and program chairman for yesterday's meeting. The guest speaker had piloted the earliest types of aircraft up to and including the P-38 in World War II and was a flight instructor during that war.

Also Shows Film
He showed a film which presented such models as the Parker D-7, one of the best German made aircraft, the Spad, the most rugged plane used by the Air Corps, the Newport, a lighter but faster type aircraft and the 1908 Bleriot named after the Frenchman who was the first to fly the English Channel.

Fox pointed out that the air-planes shown in the film were taken at an airport museum at Rhinebeck, which was organized by Cole Palen, also a pilot, and the museum is one of a few in existence today.

Besides the ancient World War I plane on exhibition, the airport itself is a duplicate of an actual airport installation used in the first world war. The speaker mentioned that these early aircraft are still in flying condition and noted the museum is open to the public.

Discussing the early aircraft, the speaker pointed out that the average speed of World War I planes was about 100 miles an hour, had 100 and 150-horse power engines and could attain altitudes of 17,000 feet.

On Display at Museum
"The first means of aircraft combat was quite primitive," the speaker said. He said the first type of actual warfare was the throwing of bricks by pilots at each other. That method was gradually replaced by pistols, then shotguns and rifles and finally automatic guns in the propeller.

In conclusion, the speaker mentioned that these World War I aircraft are on display at the Cole Palen Museum, in Rhinebeck.

One of the few remaining places where bald eagles persist in numbers is Everglades National Park in Florida.

Pontiff Appears At Window for 2nd Day in Row

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appeared in his apartment window today and told a crowd of bishops and Romans in St. Peter's Square that he is getting well.

It was the 81-year-old pontiff's second public appearance since he was confined to bed eight days ago by a stomach ailment and anemia.

The Pope stood in his open window for almost seven minutes at noon to give his benediction to the crowd below—a substitute for his regular Wednesday general audience which his illness had forced him to cancel last week and again today. He had appeared in the window briefly last Sunday also, to bless the crowd and tell them "health is returning."

Concert Tonight By Choristers at Geo. Washington

A concert will be presented by the Lyric Choristers of Kingston tonight at 8 o'clock at the George Washington School auditorium, with Edward T. Greene, supervising principal of the Rondout Valley Schools, as director. Brian Steeves, head of vocal music at the Myron J. Michael School, is associate director, and Mrs. Margaret V. Schwarz, is piano accompanist.

Robert Spillman, 26-year-old pianist from West Point, will be guest performer.

The concert will not entirely be one of listening for the audience as there will be a "sing along" of favorite Christmas carols.

At the invitation of Dr. Hyman Pleasure, medical director at the Middletown State Hospital, the Lyric Choristers presented a seasonal concert Nov. 28 for the patients. The group was well received in an auditorium filled with approximately 200 persons. The auditorium was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season.

Civil Suit Is Filed In Price-Fix Case

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The government has filed a civil suit to accompany the criminal action initiated in September against 11 major brass and copper firms accused of price-fixing.

The civil suit was filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court here. The indictment that charged the same 11 companies with violations of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act was handed down by a federal grand jury Sept. 12.

A combination of civil and criminal proceedings is common in anti-trust cases.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy said the purpose of the civil suit is to win an injunction compelling the companies to refrain from the actions cited in the criminal action.

The suit asks no money damages but seeks to prevent further price fixing.

The defendants include Revere Copper and Brass of New York City.

Rocky's Help Is Asked by Wagner For Aid Boost

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has asked Gov. Rockefeller to help the city get $267 million more in state aid for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

A letter from the Democratic mayor to the Republican governor, made public Tuesday at City Hall, made a number of proposals for action by the 1963 Legislature.

Wagner's letter did not mention the possibility of new or increased special city taxes to help balance the municipal expense budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year. An appeal for authority to levy new or increased taxes might be made later, however.

Wagner asked that the state give the city half of the state's annual revenue of about $80 million from the stock transfer tax.

The largest item of additional state aid sought by Wagner was $113 million for public school education, almost half of the total of $267 million. Another item was $10 million for higher education.

Expense Reports Of Penn. Solon, Committee Vary

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Apparently contradictory reports on the personal campaign expenses of Rep. James E. Van Zandt, defeated Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, are on file in the state elections bureau.

Van Zandt reported in an affidavit dated Nov. 26 that his personal expenses in the campaign did not exceed $150.

The Van Zandt Committee for the U.S. Senate, based in Washington, filed a sworn report with the state bureau yesterday showing Van Zandt contributed $2,500 on July 17.

Van Zandt's wife, Esther, is listed as a $2,575 contributor to the same committee on the same date.

Total receipts for the Van Zandt committee were $64,015.

Reports of the Scranton for Governor Committee, headquartered in Lackawanna County, showed total contributions of $74,124.

Second Meeting For Horse Group

The purpose of the organization is to further the interest in good horsemanship in Rondout Valley. Plans were discussed to establish a workshop for the purpose of repairing and maintaining horse tack. Barnes, from the Agricultural Department of Rondout Valley Central school, addressed the group, giving pointers on the formation and aims of this type of club, and the long range benefits for each member through the exchange of ideas.

The next meeting is to be held on Thursday, Dec. 13 at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Louise Martin has been invited to conduct a round-table discussion on all phases of horsemanship. All horse lovers who are interested in taking advantage of the opportunities afforded by belonging to an association are invited to attend.

Alphabet for African Language Made Up at Syracuse University

By OTTO DOELLING

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Bambara, an African language in search of an alphabet, has found its ABCs thousands of miles from home — on the campus of Syracuse University.

As a result, nationals of the new Republic of Mali, where Bambara is the major tongue, may soon be able to write ma ma (two words) as well as talk to ma ma in their native language.

Ma ma is one expression that loses nothing in translation. It means mother, of course.

French has been the official language in Mali, a former French colony in West Africa.

Until the adoption here of the Roman alphabet to Bambara sounds, there was no written version of the language in general use. Some missionaries, however, had devised a form of written Bambara in translating the Bible into the native language.

Done by Journalist

The ba ba (father) of the first officially sponsored version of written Bambara is Robert S. Laubach, a linguistic expert at the Syracuse University School of Journalism.

Laubach, with the aid of five educators from Mali, devised a 28-letter system, including an accented e and o, a primer and illustrated charts to aid in teaching the written language.

The charts, similar to those used in American elementary schools to teach children to read, are designed according to the formula that one picture is worth one word, rather than one thousand.

Each picture, Laubach said, is intended to give the learner "a visual association between the sound, which he knows, and the unfamiliar letters."

Boy Scout News Scout Pack 18 Presented With Awards of Merit

At a recent pack meeting held in St. Mary's School hall, Cub Scout Pack 18 of St. Mary's Church was re-registered for the year 1962-63 and was inspected by District Commissioner William Sill.

The Pack was presented with awards of merit, in the form of flag streamers, for on-time registration for 1962, for increased membership and for 100 per cent subscription to "Boy's Life," the scouting magazine.

The following awards were presented by Cub-Master Arthur Bourchard: den chief cords to Ronald DuBois and Barry Jackson; bobcat badges to John Matthews of Den 1, Robert McCullough, William Haber, Joseph Bruno and Richard Vertetis of Den 4; wolf badges to Joseph Duffy of Den 1 and David Jackson of Den 3; gold arrow points to Robert Bouchard, Joseph Conger, Donald Hastings, Dennis Howard, Jay Maurer and Robert Whitney of Den 1, Gregory DuBois and Raymond Kilmer of Den 3 and David Jackson of Den 3.

In keeping with the theme of the month, "Buckskin Pioneers," the Cubs were outfitted in frontier costumes, armed with early American flintlocks and muskets of their own making. Numerous table displays of stockades and log cabins were presented.

Attending as guests were several potential Cubs and their parents.

Refreshments were served by Den 2 following the meeting.

The first five cash crops in the United States are, in order, wheat, corn, tobacco, cotton and soy beans.

Cliff Schoonmaker netted 14 points to pace Rondout Valley to a 42-30 triumph over visiting Tri-Valley last evening. Coach Chick Meehan's cagers moved to a quick lead and then did their usual solid job on defense to stop the visitors with but 12 baskets during the encounter.

The Ganders, who open their UCL season on Friday by hosting Walkill, led by 12-9, 19-15, and 34-20, margins at the quarter stops.

Rondout also captured the jay-vee tilt, 32-18. Leonard Black showed the way with eight points.

NAIA to Honor Gridiron Greats

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics will induct three players and two coaches into its football hall of fame this weekend.

Roosevelt Brown, veteran tackle for the New York Giants, will receive his award Sunday at Yankee Stadium in a ceremony before the Giants meet the Cleveland Browns.

Jimmy Carr, Philadelphia Eagles halfback, will also receive his award Sunday as a preliminary to the Eagles-Pittsburgh Steelers game in Philadelphia.

Marvin Tomlinson, a full back at Parkland, Wash., who set total offense and passing records as a halfback for Pacific Lutheran in the early 1940s, and two coaches—Jess Dow of Southern Connecticut State and Fred Long of Wiley College at Marshall, Tex., will be honored Friday night at a dinner in Sacramento.

The NAIA makes the awards each year in conjunction with the Helms Athletic Foundation of Los Angeles.

Brown was a star for Morgan State College at Baltimore and Carr at Morris Harvey in Charleston, W.Va.

Arlington, Lourdes Win Cage Openers

Our Lady of Lourdes and Arlington High cagers started their seasons with victories last evening.

Lourdes, playing in its new gym for the first time, topped Cardinal Farley Military Academy, 54-38.

Arlington was a 78-69 winner at Catskill.

Route 30 Trails Hit Ski Centers

The Adirondack Trail, highly popular with summer motorists, is now one of the popular ski "runs" of New York state.

Route 30, the north-south highway that crosses the heart of the Adirondack Mountains, is at the doorstep of three major ski centers, with two others close by.

Big Tupper Ski Center, three miles south of Tupper Lake village, Oak Mountain Ski Center, at Speculator, and Silver Bells Ski Center, in Wells, all are directly on this route. Each of these major centers operates on a daily schedule.

Royal Mountain Ski Center at Johnstown and Pine Ridge Ski Center at Salisbury Center, open weekends, are not far off the Trail.

Big Tupper, a relatively new center, offers a wide variety among seven trails that range from a half to three-quarters of a mile with vertical drops 150 to 800 feet.

Its 300-foot Bunny Slope drops at a 50-foot vertical lift and 2800-foot T-bar serve all the runs.

Oak Mountain, at Speculator, is one of the oldest and best-known ski centers in the Empire State. It has seven trails and two slopes. The trails run up to 3500 feet with a 600-foot vertical. The slopes, beginners and nursery, are 600 and 400 feet long. A 3100-foot T-bar and two rope tows serve the area.

Oak Mountain is one of the Adirondack centers that has a snow-making machine.

Jordan Is Named Lineman of Week

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rugged Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama's rock-ribbed center and linebacker who proved too much for Auburn last Saturday and for most opponents all season, was named Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press today for the second time this season.

Jordan, a 6-foot-2, 207-pounder who was a first round choice of the National Football League's Dallas Cowboys and a second round choice of Boston in the American League in the pro draft, was directly responsible for two touchdowns in the Crimson Tide's 38-0 victory over Auburn.

The native of Excel, Ala., sprung Butch Wilson loose on a 92-yard run with the opening kickoff with a devastating block. He set up Alabama's third touchdown, breaking through to help block Jon Kilgore's punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown.

Jordan also was picked as the nation's outstanding lineman for his role in Alabama's 20-0 victory over Mississippi State on Nov. 3.

The three-year letterman, an All-America candidate at center, also turned in an outstanding job on offense against Auburn, as the Tide rolled up 216 yards on the ground.

Alabama Coach Bear Bryant rated Jordan's performance as typical of "the best linebacker in the SEC and I believe the nation. There has never been another like Lee Roy Jordan."

Navy guard Vern Von Sydow and tackle Larry Graham drew praise for their play in the Mid-Atlantic 34-14 victory over Army.

Chiefs Extend Lead
To 4 Games in ABL
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's going to take someone with a long reach to overtake Long Beach in the American Basketball League race.

The Chiefs, rolling over the opposition with ease, won their 11th game in 12 starts Tuesday night, beating second-place Pittsburgh 121-100 and increasing their edge over the Rens to four games.

In the only other ABL game scheduled, Philadelphia defeated Chicago 113-87.

Will Sentence Cage
Fixers for Bribery
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A St. Louis man, described as a financial ramrod in the basketball game-fixing scandal, and his key lieutenant faced sentencing today on multiple bribery charges.

Appearing before Judge Heman Clark in Wake Superior court were Dave Goldberg, 46 and Steve Lekometros, 39.

They were convicted Tuesday at the close of a 10-day trial of bribing North Carolina State College basketball players to dump or shave points in eight games between December, 1959, and January, 1961.

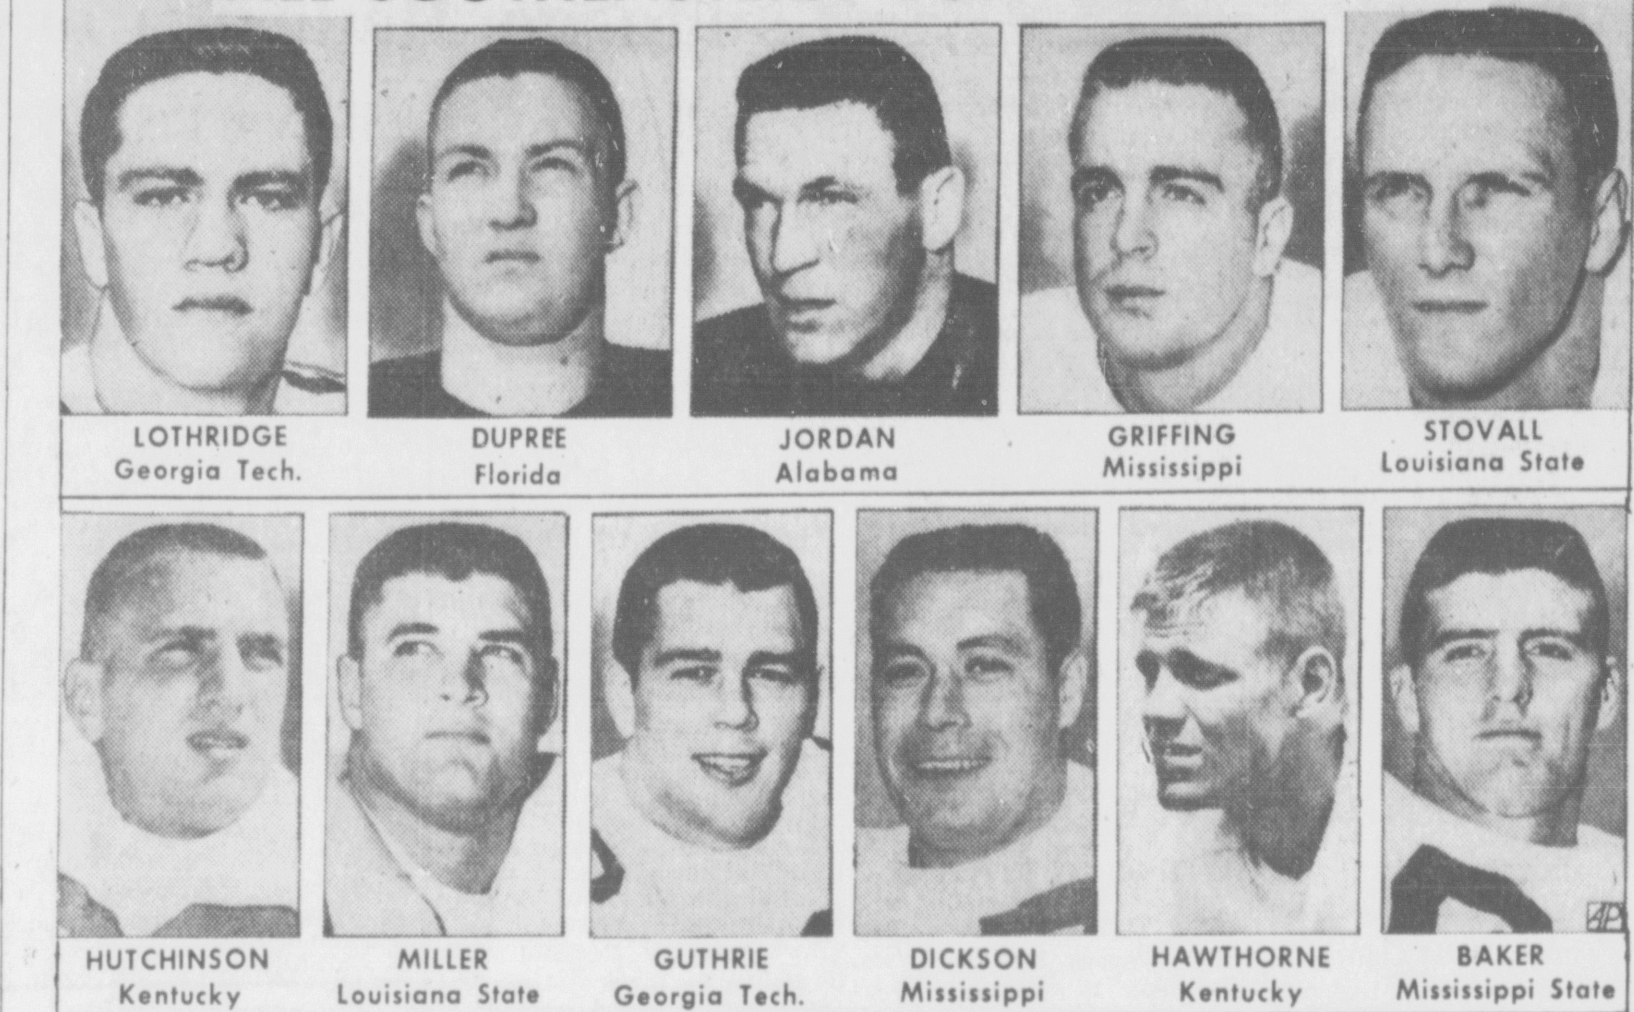

Both took the verdicts impassively. Goldberg was convicted on 18 counts and Lekometros on 14. Each charge carried a maximum penalty of five years.

Albany Academy Rally Tops Saugerties High Cagers, 60-56

After playing superlative basketball for the first half, Saugerties High cagers ran into a scoring famine during the third and fourth periods and dropped a 60-56 heartbreaker last night at the Albany Academy gym.

The Sawyers combined a stubborn defense with some hot shooting to lead by 11 points, 34-23, at halftime. However, the upstarts who snapped a jinx and won their first contest ever over a SHS athletic team, started to find the range in the second half. They took the lead for keeps at the start of the fourth quarter and won going away.

Lanky Archie Coupe provided the spark for unbeaten Academy. Held to a lone field goal in the first half, he rebounded for 21 points more after the intermission.

Mike Dodig rimmed 23 markers for the Sawyers, now 1-2 for the campaign. John Crispino held to a lone field goal in the first half, he rebounded for 21 points more after the intermission.

The Sawyers jayvees won a 37-26 preliminary tilt.

Saugerties will host Beacon in a DCSL meeting Friday at the SHS gym.

Small College
All-American
Is Selected

NEW YORK (AP)—Passing maestro George Bork, mammoth tackle Junius Buchanan, and Drew Roberts and back Joe Iacone head the 11 small college standouts named today to The Associated Press' 1962 Little All-American football team.

Bork, the Northern Illinois quarterback who was the No. 1 passer among the collegians parading their talents in smaller stadiums around the country, is the only junior on the first team. All others are seniors, and many may be playing in professional ranks next fall.

Buchanan, a 6-foot-6, 272-pound lineman who does double duty as a sprinter for Grambling, was the No. 1 selection in the American Football League draft held last weekend. He immediately signed with the Dallas Texans.

Roberts of Humboldt State in California and Iacone of West Chester, Pa., are the only repeaters from the 1961 Little All-American team.

Joining Bork and Iacone in the first team backfield are Richard Kemp of Lenoir Rhyne, a barreling rusher on a team that has won 17 in a row, and Robert (China Doll) Paremore, fleet track star for Florida A&M who also has established his reputation as a top-flight gridiron hero.

Rounding out the first team line are end Willie Richardson of Jackson, Miss. State; tackle Dick Peter of Whittier; guards Ralph Soffredine of Central Michigan and Don Hunt of Wittenberg; and center Douglas Harvey of Texas A&M, who was tapped for the honor over an unusually large group of outstanding centers.

The 11-man Little All-American aggregation rates as possibly stronger than any other team selected since 1934, when The Associated Press pioneered the recognition of the small college stars.

Bork, the tallest member of the backfield at 6 feet, the lightest at 160 pounds and the youngest at 20, also is the one who has grabbed the major share of the headlines with his passing proficiency. He led the small collegians in total offense with 2,398 yards in nine games.

In the air, Bork completed 232 passes out of 356 attempted for a remarkable 632 completion percentage and gained 2,506 yards—almost 1 1/2 miles.

Diddle Gets 750th

Princeton Sophomore
Big Hit In Ivy League

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

An 18-year-old sophomore sought by over 60 colleges who is shaking the staid Ivy League, and a 67-year-old coach who has been overworking a large red towel for some 40 years. That's the unlikely combination sharing today's college basketball spotlight.

The sophomore sensation is young Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 product of Crystal City, Mo., who turned his back on his own backyard and wound up at Princeton.

He scored 28 points in his first game and came back with 27 Tuesday night in the Tigers' 68-53 victory over Villanova.

The coach man is Western Kentucky Coach Ed Diddle, who has been at the Ohio Valley Conference school for 41 years. He displayed all his towel-flipping tricks as the Hilltoppers wrote his 750th triumph into the record books by blasting Texas Wesleyan 101-66.

Bucking for a place in the spotlight were two of the nation's top ten pre-season choices—second-ranked Duke, which rolled over South Carolina 95-63 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash, and sixth-ranked Mississippi State, 90-55 conqueror of Arkansas A&M in its season debut.

In two Southern Conference games on a schedule heavy with intercollegiate and inter-conference contests, Virginia Tech downed Richmond 76-68 for its 37th consecutive home court victory and defending league champion West Virginia opened conference play with a 100-74 triumph over VMI.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame beat Michigan State 92-85 after a basket by soph Jay Miller broke a tie. Laverne Tart led Bradley on a 90-57 walk past North Dakota, Oklahoma state a school scoring record in a 96-83 decision over SMU. Vanderbilt outlasted Rice 80-68 and Oregon edged Washington 59-57 on a pair of foul shots.

Mexicans Set For Australia

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MADRAS, India (AP)—A confident, fired up Mexican Davis Cup tennis team pointed its rackets toward Australia today and adopted a "don't sell us short" slogan for the challenge round.

"Now that we have reached the challenge round for the first time in our history, the pressure is off," said the suave Mexican captain, Pancho Contreras.

"From here on anything can happen. We are all proud that we have gone this far, but we don't regard this as the end of our adventure. We think we can win."

Mexico, conqueror of the United States in the American zone final and of Sweden in the Interzone semifinal, qualified for the challenge round Tuesday by beating India in the first three matches of the Interzone final for an insurmountable 3-0 lead.

Rafael Osuna, 24-year-old student at the University of Southern California, captured a vital singles match from India's ace, Ramanathan Krishnan, 8-6, 2-6, 7-5, 6-8, 6-4 and then teamed with Antonio Palafox for a clinching doubles triumph over Premjit Lal and Joydeep Mukerjee, 10-8, 12-10, 6-4.

Mexico made it 4-0 when Mario Llama beat Premjit Lal 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 in today's first single match.

In the other tilt, Eddie's Country Fair defeated Elston's Sport Shop, 74-54.

The Uhl boys rimmed 14 points each and Mike Ferraro added 12 for Tony's, which led all the way. Bruce Ruffner's 12 points was high for Byrne.

Dick Robinson with 26 and John Dumond with 25 points paced Eddie's over Elston's. Dick Barthel's 19 points was high for the losers.

Liston Drops Fight Promoters

CHICAGO (AP)—Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston moved into his three-story mansion surrounded by a wrought iron fence and announced Championship Sports Inc., will not promote any of his future matches.

Liston and his wife, Geraldine, were busy moving into the 21-room "castle" recently vacated by jazz pianist Ahmad Jamal while the champ was holding a press conference Tuesday.

Liston, who won the title by knocking Patterson in 2 minutes and 6 seconds of the first round in Comiskey Park last Sept. 25, said "If I meet Patterson again it will have to be under a different promotion and Baltimore stands a good chance of getting it."

Liston, who recently left Philadelphia in favor of Chicago, said if dethroned champion Floyd Patterson insists on that group as promoters of a return match, there will be no fight.

Liston said his adviser, Jack Nilon, would get in touch with Patterson in New York this week to discuss the details of a return match.

One of the reasons Liston wants no part of Championship Sports Inc., is because of the money. The champion explained the group gave him $25,000 for training expenses and $5,000 after the fight. But there remains a matter of $280,000 owed to him which the government has tied up.

Liberty Earns 43-33 Victory Over New Paltz

Liberty Central warmed up for its DUSO meeting with Kingston Friday night by scoring a 43-33 triumph at New Paltz last evening. It was the debut for the Sullivan County cagers while the Huguenots suffered their second loss in three starts.

The visitors jumped to an 11-7 first period lead and held it the rest of the way. It was 20-16 at halftime and 32-24 after three periods as the Huguenots stayed close but couldn't start a sustained attack.

Rod Longfield led the home side with 10 points while Bill Earle's 13 markers was high for Liberty.

New Paltz captured the Jay-vee contest, 39-27, as Bruce McElrath rimmed 14 points.

Staubach Named Back of the Week

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Roger Staubach, Navy's Jolly Roger, says his first name had nothing to do with those Pirate flags the Midshipmen wore on their helmets in routing Army last Saturday, is already thinking about next football season.

He's planning to skip basketball, one of his favorite sports, in order to practice weightlifting and try to add some muscle to his arms and chest and some weight to his 6-foot-2, 193-pound frame.

Perish the thought, Army, but he thinks it will make him more effective. "I'll be stronger," he says.

The 20-year-old sophomore quarterback from Cincinnati was chosen by The Associated Press Tuesday as its Back of the Week for his four touchdown performance in Navy's 34-14 shelling of Army.

He passed for two touchdowns and ran for two others, gained a total of 222 yards passing and running and wound up the season with a total offense of 1,221 yards in seven games—only 177 yards shy of the academy record set by George Welsh in nine games as a senior in 1955.

Being named Back-of-the-Week was Roger's first national recognition, although he was chosen an All-America quarterback in high school at Cincinnati Purcell and in junior college at New Mexico Military Institute, which he attended for one year before entering Navy.

"It's quite an honor to be picked from all these fine football players in the country, but it's especially nice after an Army-Navy game," the young midshipman said of his designation.

One of Navy's psychological tricks to offset the publicity buildup of Army's chiseled bandit defensive unit was a skull and crossbones painted on the front of each Navy helmet, a copy of the jolly roger pirates would hoist just before boarding a ship.

Staubach said the Navy players didn't know about the helmets until five minutes before gametime, but the team got a lift from them.

Insiders can't figure out why Commissioner Joe Foss has dilly-dallied about forcing the financially buckled New York franchise to revert to the American Football League . . . prospective buyers are shying at meeting the current asking price—figuring they'll get a better deal.

Inside official of the game official, a man on the field tells us. . . blew the call that could have cost Boston the Eastern title of the AFL (a quick whistle on a Houston fumble) . . . and also cost Jesse Richardson, veteran Patriot tackle, $500 . . . for jostling the official when the latter insisted on a jawing match. . .

Terry Baker

Terry Baker, this year's outstanding college player, has set the pace for Oregon State with his southpaw passes . . . but as a high school pitcher, he tossed his team to a state championship with right hand slants. . . He also skipped sports until he got his grades safely up to an A average (he's an engineering student) in his freshman year . . . he threatened to quit football after his sophomore season . . . and wound up winning the Heisman Trophy.

The probable first coaching shakeup in the National Football League looms in Baltimore . . . Weeb Ewbank is on thin ice.

Ron Biley, Notre Dame sophomore halfback who'll be an All-American of the future, was turned down by Syracuse because he didn't have a high school academic diploma, but was accepted by Notre Dame on the basis of his college entrance test.

The most amazing physical comeback we've heard of in recent years was the return of Joe Perry to fullbacking for the Baltimore Colts . . . in shape to play just three weeks after a cartilage operation on his knee. . .

General Manager Dick Gallagher of the Buffalo Bills, who could be partial, says "Cookie Gilchrist is as fine a football player as I've ever seen." . . . but Gallagher, who served as an important member of the Cleveland Browns' coaching team for years, raises some eyebrows by adding, "In some ways he's a better fullback than Jimmy Brown." . . . He blocks better and has a better attitude towards practice. . . . He reminds me of Marion Motley."

Isn't it slightly ridiculous the way the New York Giants, with the Eastern title virtually wrapped up, shy away like frightened horses from any mention of the Green Bay Packers as a possible title opponent? . . . Whom do they expect to play in New York Dec. 30, the Providence Steamrollers? . . .

We've never heard a conservative coach like Buff Donelli go so high on a football player as he does with Archie Roberts, Jr., his brilliant sophomore quarterback. . . . "As good a passer," says Buff, "as Harry Agganis (this All-American at Boston University) . . . and I think he's got a chance to be in the class of guys like Sammy Baugh and Sid Luckman."

Look for Don McKinnon, the Dartmouth linebacker, to go high in the professional draft. . . . boosted by Bob Blackman. . .

This is the year the Detroit Tigers don't dare look back—they turned back Maury Wills, the National League's most valuable player, after a spring trial three years ago . . . and also gave up on catcher Bob Rodgers, the Angels' rookie-of-the-year.

Between you'n me, maybe the fessie isn't the same, but American Football League games offer as much excitement on the television screen as those projected by the National League.

CYO Jayvee, Tyro Basketball Loops Set Saturday Openers

Big Bug

CONCORD, N. H. (NEA) — The New Hampshire Game and Fish Department is somewhat puzzled by a letter received from a resident of North Hampton.

"Enclosed is the band from a cock pheasant which made a deliberate, unprovoked and startling attack on my poor defenseless compact car. I think that in the future you should release only birds of the highest moral character so as not to endanger the public."

The best explanation the department has found so far for the bird's action is that it was nearsighted and mistook the car for an oversized beetle.

Hunting Toll Is 18 in State

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The 1962 big-game hunting season in New York State cost the lives of 18 hunters, about the same toll as in recent years.

Thirteen hunters were killed by their own or other hunters' weapons, one died in a fall, and four succumbed from natural causes.

The hunters who died natural deaths all were over the age of 50.

The big-game season opened Oct. 25 and ended Tuesday night. Most of the victims were after deer or bear. Others were hunting smaller game, such as rabbit.

Six of the hunters were felled when their own weapons went off accidentally, and two were killed by accidental discharges of companions' weapons.

Two men were shot by hunters who mistook them for bear or deer. Three were hit by stray bullets fired at game targets in their direction.

Among those who died of natural causes was Cecil S. McConnell, 62, of Massena, the Republican chairman of St. Lawrence County.

Last year, 20 hunters, died during the big-game season. The 1961 total included 12 by gunfire and 4 from natural causes.

Ortiz Is Named Boxer of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz of New York, who knocked out Teruo Kosaka of Japan Monday in the first defense of his world lightweight title, was named "The Fighter of the Month" by Ring Magazine today.

In the heavyweight division, Cassius Clay of Louisville advanced from seventh to fourth because of his knockout victory over Archie Moore last month. Moore dropped from fifth to seventh.

Floyd Patterson was listed as the logical challenger for Sonny Liston's heavyweight title, followed by Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore. and Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz. Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, who was fourth in the last ratings, dropped down a peg while Billy Daniels of New York, who knocked out Mike DeJohn of Syracuse, replaced his victim in the tenth spot.

Despite the action of the New York Athletic Commission in revoking Paul Pender's fractional middleweight crown, the Boston fighter continued to be ranked on top, along with Dick Tiger, the NBA champ. Ex-champion Gene Fullmer, Terry Downes, George Benton, Joey Giardello, Luis Follo, Joey Giambra and Laszlo Papp, followed in that order.

Colgate Cagers Nip AU, 70 to 69

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Tecarr scored a last-minute layup and free throw Tuesday night to enable his Colgate teammates to eke out a 70-69 basketball victory over American University at Hamilton.

The game was the feature of an Upstate chart that resulted in victories for Albany State, Cortland State, Ithaca, Brockport State and Buffalo State.

Tecarr's solo heroics capped a see-saw battle that had the teams tied 42-42 at halftime.

Each team's starting five played the entire game.

Other scores:

Albany State 70, Utica College 53; Cortland State 72, Oneonta State 45; Ithaca 77, Lockhaven (Pa.) 42; Brockport State 53, Rochester Tech 47; Buffalo State 77, Roberts Wesleyan 65.

Lakers Having The Laughs Now

They laughed when an expert or two decided the Los Angeles Lakers would succeed the Boston Celtics as the No. 1 team in professional basketball this season.

Especially when the Lakers lost four of their first five games. Now the Lakers have won nine in a row and 16 of their last 19, have pushed into a one-game lead in the National Basketball Association's Western Division with a 17-7 mark, and if there's a laugh left it's a faint chuckle.

Elgin Baylor, a fellow who makes even the most liberal expert look good, did the big job Tuesday night with a 43-point performance that buried the New York Knickerbockers, 132-112.

Three clutch free throws by Bob Ferris helped Detroit edge Syracuse 130-129 in the Madison Square Garden opener.

Nebraska Set For Gotham Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—Rugged Nebraska will oppose Miami of Florida in the second Gotham Bowl football game Dec. 15, rescuing the post-season contest with time running short.

The match was completed Tuesday night when the Board of Regents and the Big Eight Conference approved acceptance of the bid voted by the Nebraska players.

Bowl officials were pleased by the acquisition of both the Miami Hurricanes, 7-3, and the Cornhuskers, 8-2, who are among the nation's top ten teams in passing and rushing, respectively.

Less than 15,000 fans watched Baylor defeat previously unbeaten Utah State in the first Gotham Bowl game last year. The event had been scheduled to get off the ground in 1960 but failed to make it.

ABC Rejects Claims For 299-814 Awards

Among the benefits of an ABC tournament sanction are the equitable distribution of prizes, proper scheduling, sensible handicap provisions and strict accounting of funds. There are many other benefits, not the least important of which high score protection and recognition so richly earned by each entrant, says the American Bowling Congress. The principle was graphically demonstrated three months ago in a doubles tournament in the Los Angeles area. The unfortunate victim was former Chicago star Pete Nadian. Nadian rolled a 299 game, for which he would have had his choice of ABC awards, and an 814 series that currently would have placed him second in the national listing. Claims for both scores had to be rejected. The tournament wasn't sanctioned. . . . Highest scores in ABC leagues for the 1962-63 season up to Nov. 15 were: Cove Lounge, St. Louis, 1269; Buddy Simon, Cleveland, 1262; 4-man series, Twisters, St. Louis, 2775; 4-man team game, Twisters, St. Louis 976; 3-man team series, Globe Optical, Milwaukee 2054; 3-man team game, Globe Optical, Milwaukee 693; 2-man team series, Sal Timpa-Dale Seavoy, Dayton, 1477; 2-man team game, Ed Jarvis-Moon Mullins, Dayton, 548; top individuals: Luke Katakura, Honolulu, 833; Bob Metz, Dayton, 813; Gus Marsala, St. Louis, 812.

868 Series For Gallo

Chris Gallo slammed games of 183, 216, 235 and 234 for an 868 foursome in the Mid City Classic. Jack Houghtaling rolled 213, 212, 249-833; Larry Petersen 228, 206, 215-839; Herb Petersen 246, 203, 212, 208-864.

Other leaders included Jack Ferraro 201-737, Mike Rienzo 224-781, Charles Manfro 203-743, Bruce Hinkley 223-780, John Ferraro 205, 201-766, Mike Casara 217, 224-774.

Team results:
Jay Steel 2, Spiegel Brothers 2; City Electric 2, Siller Beef 2; Island Dock 3, Olsen Roofing 1.

Two New Paltz Soccer Stars On Second Team

Two freshman soccer players of the State University College, New Paltz, have been listed on the 1962 all-star selections made by the New York State Intercollegiate Conference Soccer Association, according to an announcement made recently.

Richard Lotze, inside right halfback, and Joseph Facioli, center halfback, were named on the second team of the soccer Association Selections. Lotze is from Elmont, Long Island, and Facioli is from Westchester, Pa.

Facioli was also a contender for the 1964 Olympic soccer games scheduled to be held in Tokyo, Japan. He came through in the first round of tryouts at Fairleigh Dickinson University on November 29 and 30 and the second round of competition at Brooklyn College, December 1 and 2. He was eliminated in the last round at Brooklyn.

New Paltz soccer coach Al Miller, said that Facioli made a good showing at the tryouts. "He was one of the younger fellows in the competition," Coach Miller said, "and there were too many older and more experienced players competing for the center halfback position." Miller's 1962 soccer team, which ended the season with an overall record of six wins and four losses and a league record of 3 and 2, was rated among 10 competitors by the Soccer Association.

Heart Attack Fells Steelers Linebacker

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rudy Hayes, 28, linebacker for the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, remained in fair condition today after suffering a heart attack while hunting deer.

However, a spokesman said the condition of the Pickens, S.C., player was improving.

Hayes, a former Clemson star, had been inactive most of the season because of a knee injury. He returned to the active list last weekend and played briefly against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Seeks Return of Money Taken by Police

A Poughkeepsie couple is seeking the return of $326 taken by Poughkeepsie police, who arrested Mr. and Mrs. Hoke Roberts, of 36 North Perry Street, that city last July on charges of keeping a place for policy.

A civil action has been started before City Judge Milton Haven. The plaintiffs, represented by Elmore Nathan, Kingston attorney, pleaded guilty Sept. 18 and paid fines totaling $650.

Attorney Nathan contends that the Appellate Division has upheld other cases on the grounds the police can retain but not keep the money.

Dutchess County Assistant District Attorney John Heilman says the cases referred to by Nathan have been reversed.

Judge Haven adjourned the case until Monday for submission of legal memorandum by the Kingston attorney.

London Gripped By Yellow Smog; Threat to Health

LONDON (AP)—A dense blanket of sulphurous yellow smog gripped the British capital for the second day today, raising a threat to health and making thousands late for work.

As commuter trains crawled toward the heart of the city, health authorities warned that babies and old people should be kept at home.

"The situation is potentially serious," said a spokesman for the Medical Research Council. "Smog particularly affects the very young, the very old and people with weak hearts or chests."

London's last great exposure to smog was in 1957 when 1,000 people died from chest and heart ailments during a three-day siege.

Ten years ago the toll from an eight-day smog was at least 4,000, and by some estimates 12,000.

The capital's great airport was still idle after some 30 hours of inactivity. Shipping was tied up on the River Thames and cars were abandoned across the whole metropolitan area. Rail schedules had been discarded.

Fog blanketed much of the rest of England and spread into the south of Scotland.

In London, the sulphur dioxide content in the atmosphere was six times normal and the smoke concentration nine times its usual level.

Bill Pre-Filed On Permanent Daylight Saving

The Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Vehicles and Traffic Safety today pre-filed a bill mandating year-around Daylight Saving Time for the state.

The committee, according to State Senator Edward J. Speno of East Meadow, L. I., has considered the proposal from two main points of view, traffic safety and public opinion.

He said that throughout the state and in New York City, more accidents occur in the late afternoon and early morning commuting hours than any other time of day, particularly during the short-day months.

The State Traffic Engineering Advisory Committee unanimously approved the Daylight Saving proposal on Oct. 26 and traffic experts throughout the nation have greeted the New York proposal enthusiastically according to Spino.

Senator Speno also said that the majority of his mail favors the proposal.

The year-around Daylight Saving and three other bills are included on the agenda of a committee public hearing to be held in Manhattan next week.

The other three bills require reflective coating for all license plates to reduce night-time accidents; black or yellow plates to be used six years without change for better visibility and economy and seat belts for all small school buses carrying no more than 12 students.

QUESTION: A neighbor kept a horse in his yard overnight and it got out and into our yard where it did a lot of damage. The neighbor says his insurance will take care of everything. What kind of insurance is this?

ANSWER: There are several forms of insurance which would handle that situation but he probably refers to comprehensive personal liability which covers him for acts of any animals in his care and control.

$394,000 Grant Made to Beacon For Incinerator

The U. S. Community Facilities Administration has granted $394,000 to the City of Beacon to help finance construction of a $700,000 incinerator, according to a report confirmed Tuesday by Mayor Stanley Odell.

The mayor said he will continue efforts to obtain an additional $150,000 in U. S. aid for a proposed new city hall.

It was pointed out the incinerator grant was issued under the $900,000,000 accelerated public works legislation enacted in late summer by Congress.

The incinerator is designed to provide a surplus capacity of more than 50 per cent, and is expected to end open refuse burning in the city.

Listed by the Department of Labor as one of the 19 economically distressed areas in the state, Beacon with Newburgh and Middletown are eligible for the program under the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Tank Truck Work Parties Slated Tuesday Evening

Definite work parties to complete the new tank truck and place it in service were scheduled Tuesday evening at the monthly meeting of Woodstock Fire Company 3, serving the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady area.

The regular fire drill on Sunday, Dec. 9, at 2 p. m. will inaugurate the series of work parties on the truck, and the following Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 p. m. have also been designated as work nights, according to Captain Alfred Ostrander.

A report from the nominating committee was received at the meeting with election of officers for 1963 scheduled for Tuesday evening, Jan. 8. The regular time for this meeting would be New Year's Day, so the change in date was made according to the company by-laws.

Fire drills are regularly scheduled by the company on the second Sunday of each month at 2 p. m., and the last Wednesday of each month at 7 p. m.

Coxsackie Man Is Called Suicide

Francis E. Decker, 37, of Coxsackie, who was found dead Monday afternoon at his home has been declared a suicide by Greene County Coroner Henry Millsaugh.

Decker, a construction worker who recently completed a job in Rochester, was found dead of a .22 caliber revolver shot in the bedroom of his home at 17 Church Street about 5:30 p. m. Monday.

On reaching his home he went directly to the bedroom where he shot himself.

Coroner Millsaugh and BCI Investigators from the Leeds State Police substation investigated and reported the case a suicide. Decker had been a resident of Coxsackie only three months. Surviving is his wife, the former Alice Banuat, and three sons and a daughter. Services will be Thursday from the Brady Funeral Home, Coxsackie, at 2 p. m.

Company to Remove Propane-Gas Plant

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. will dismantle its propane-gas plant at Hudson.

The Public Service Commission gave the utility permission today to retire the facility.

Niagara Mohawk said the plant had not been in use since 1955, when natural - gas service was brought to the city. The company said it has spent $6,000 a year to maintain the propane plant on a standby basis.

4 Clergymen Hurt In Dutchess Crash

While en route to their homes upstate from Brooklyn Tuesday, four Albany area clergymen were injured when the car in which they were riding veered off Route 9 in the Town of Red Hook and crashed into a utility pole.

Rhinebeck State Police said the injured were taken to the Northern Dutchess Hospital by the Red Hook and Rhinebeck Rescue Squads.

According to troopers, the car was operated by the Rev. Mae R. Jones, 40, of 51½ First Street, Albany, who suffered injuries to her chest and right knee.

Passengers in the vehicle and their injuries were listed by troopers as the Rev. David McKenzie, 28, of 107 Phillips Street, Albany, abrasions of the face, left and right knee and chest injuries; the Rev. Elba George Saunders, 70, of 90 Lark Street, Albany, injuries to the right knee and shoulder, and the Rev. Roland C. Ferguson, 70, of 900 Broadway, Rensselaer, who suffered injuries of the head, left leg and right hand.

Mrs. Jones reported to the troopers that a southbound truck crossed the center divider line on highway and as she swerved the car to avoid a collision the vehicle went off the pavement and struck a utility pole.
